

13 WERE HANGED

Civilians and Soldiers Paid the Death Penalty

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 2.—Thirteen civilians and soldiers sentenced by the military courts to death for murder, were hanged in different parts of Constantinople at 4 o'clock this morning.

Major Youssoff, his son, and three other men who killed the Syrian deputy, Ensi Mohammed Arslan, in front of the parliament building were executed on the spot where their crime was committed. Five others were hanged at the entrance of the ministry of war and three at the Stamboul end of the Galata bridge. Among these three were the editor of the newspaper, Nizam. Upon the breast of each criminal had been placed a large placard in Turkish that could be read at a considerable distance, setting forth the sentence of the court. Around the foot of the gibbets on the bridge the early morning buying of flowers and vegetables was protected as usual while the bodies were in full sight of the great crowds that make their way over the bridge between Stamboul and Galata.

KASSAB BARRACKS MARINES

PROTESTED AGAINST EXILE

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 2.—The marines in the Kassab barracks, which is situated behind the American embassy, continued Saturday. They refused to embark for distribution to the various ports.

The marines belong to the old disaffected garrison and although they had nominally surrendered were in an ugly mood. They were easily persuaded by agitators to make an armed protest against exile from the capital.

When the American ambassador, Mr. Leishman, looked out of his bedroom window yesterday morning, he observed a battery of mounted soldiers occupying a commanding position on a terrace near the embassy. Further up, field pieces had been stationed, while battalions of infantry were spread out through the Turkish cemetery and on the slope overlooking the Golden Horn. Gen. Scheffer, commander of the forces, lost no time in bringing the mutineers to terms after they had surrendered he said.

"It was the last flicker of resistance. After we had dispersed several battalions of troops and some batteries within easy range of the barracks, we asked which it was to be, obedience to order, or the fate of their comrades in the Taksim arsenal. The white flag was then hoisted on the barracks.

"I do not blame the men for the mutiny," added Gen. Scheffer. "It was the work of a few instigators. We are now sorting them out for court martial."

The treasures of the palace of Yildiz are being inventoried by a parliamentary commission. Abdul Hamid, thirty years ago, took the open, hilly pastures and gradually transformed them into gardens, among which he constructed pavilions for himself, his wives, his children and the palace favorites. He gathered there an immense variety of objects of art and luxury, services of gold and silver, French and oriental tapestries, Greek sculptures, taken from the museums of Constantinople, presents from most of the sovereigns of Europe and gifts from wealthy subjects. Within the walls of the palace are artificial lakes, a zoological garden, with a specially fine collection of giraffes, various breeds of camels and rare birds, and an automobile course.

The art objects taken from the museums will be returned to their owners, rugs, porcelains and jewels will be distributed to the other palaces, the new sultan, Mehmed V, taking the choice of these for the Dolmabahce palace, which he is at present occupying. A particular search is being made for the hoards of cash which Abdul Hamid is reported always to have had on hand. He has also great sums invested abroad. Now, however, has been found as yet, although the former sultan must have had at least a few hundred thousand pounds in the domestic exchequer.

AT FESTIVE BOARD

Federal Ball Committee Had Jolly Evening

The members of the committee on arrangements of the Federal Ball, recently held, sat down to a delightful banquet in the Richardson hotel, Saturday evening, 20 covers being laid.

Sgt. Donald W. Shanahan, president over the pleasant affair and Landford Cushing put up one of his most menus.

In opening the post-prandial exercises Mr. Shanahan referred to the great success of the party and the harmonious relations existing between employer and employee at the Federal plant and in industrial affairs. He also referred to the social relations of the employees in the future. He then introduced in complimentary remarks Mr. Edward W. C. Hosen, who leaves the Federal company to become superintendent of the new Merrimack shoe factory in Stockport street, who made a most speech. The remainder of the program was as follows:

THE AMERICAN SQUADRON

HAS BEEN HEARD FROM

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The American armored cruiser squadron, composed of the North Carolina and Montana, which left Guantanamo, Cuba, April 23, under orders from the navy department to hurry to Alexandria, "Turkish Asia," to protect Americans there during the present disorders, was 1300 miles west of Gibraltar at 3 o'clock Saturday night according to a cablegram received at the department today from Commander Henry P. Wilson, of the scout cruiser Chester at St. Vincent, C. V. I. A wireless dispatch from the North Carolina was received last night aboard the Chester, which, with the Birmingham, is coaling at St. Vincent en route to Monrovia, Liberia, from New York with the members of the United States Marine commission. It gave the position of the North Carolina and Montana as about 1000 miles north from St. Vincent. The vessels were traveling at the rate of 15 1/2 to 16 knots an hour and at that speed officials of the bureau of navigation say they should reach Gibraltar next Tuesday or Wednesday. They will receive orders to continue to eastern Mediterranean waters.

MISSIONS FOR MEN

One Closed at St. Michael's With Great Success

Another Opened Last Night at St. Peter's With a Double Service and Large Attendance

The mission for women at St. Peter's church closed yesterday afternoon after a most successful week. The missionaries being well pleased with results as shown by the large number of women who visited the confessional, received Holy Communion, and introduced in complimentary remarks Mr. Edward W. C. Hosen, who leaves the Federal company to become superintendent of the new Merrimack shoe factory in Stockport street, who made a most speech. The remainder of the program was as follows:

Song, Frank J. Deignan, reading, George D. Pollock, French song, Geo. D. Pollock, song, Henry Gordon, humorous remarks, Eugene Gratton, address, W. Cor. Sterling, song, Thomas Fitzgerald, remarks, Arthur J. Pratt, address, concluding with a vote of thanks to "Yeastwater, Shanahan and the singing of 'Hail a Jolly Good Fellow' and 'Auld Lang Syne.' These were followed by a double service. The usual closing services were held, concluding with the Papal Blessing.

The men's mission opened in the evening at 7 o'clock with a double service and the seating capacity was taxed at both. Rev. Fr. Joachim, C. P. preached in the main church and Fr. Roberts in St. Paul's chapel. The subject of the sermon being the salvation of the soul. At the mission masses at five o'clock and 8 o'clock. The usual closing services were held, concluding with the Papal Blessing.

Owing to the mission the annual Mass at St. Peter's church will not begin until next Monday after which date they will continue every evening except Saturday, at 7:30 until the close of the month.

St. Michael's Mission

The men's mission at St. Michael's church, which was conducted during the week by three priests of the Oblate order, came to a close last night with elaborate exercises at which 1700 men of the parish assisted. The closing exercises were of an inspiring nature and the scene was very impressive when 1700 men with lighted tapers renewed their baptismal vows by the recitation of the Creed and the Lord's Prayer. The work and aims of the mission were discussed by Rev. Fr. Shaw, the beloved pastor, who was gratified at the religious zeal shown by his flock in attending the masses at 5 a. m. and also the services in the evening.

The mission of two weeks, the first for the season, the second for men, was conducted by Rev. Eugene A. Doran, O. M. I., formerly pastor of the Immaculate Conception church at this city. Rev. John P. Reynolds, O. M. I., former pastor of the Sacred Heart church in this city, and Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., a new recruit to the mission.

Long before the hour appointed for the service last night the church was filled with men, each carrying a candle. The Rosary was recited by Rev. Francis Mullin, after which Rev. Fr. Doran, O. M. I., gave a powerful sermon, "Perseverance." In opening he thanked the men in glowing terms for the manner in which they made the mission and impressed on their minds the necessity of following up the work which they intended to live a holy life, and secure eternal salvation. He urged them to join the army of God and quoting from the Scripture said that God had said that those who were not with Him were against Him. He pictured the happiness and ease of the army of God and contrasted it with the life of the man who is dissatisfied with his life and the commandments of God and the church.

At the conclusion of the sermon the congregation sang the Mass, the Gloria, the Creed, the Gospel, the Eucharist, and the Agnus Dei. The choir sang the "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

LOWELL YOUTH

Figured in a Sensation at Nashua, N. H.

About 12:45 o'clock yesterday morning a team with three men drove up to the house of George Gilman, 15 Martin street, and getting in to the door placed in his hands a male infant about a year old, says the Nashua correspondent of the Massachusetts Tribune. The baby was quite destitute as to clothing, but had with him a nursing bottle. One of the men in the wagon, when Mr. Gilman stands by, recognized as a man employed by a firm of Lowell undertakers and who goes by the nickname "Nick." Mr. Gilman, he says, to keep the child until he had a chance to get it to the Nashua police station. The team, Mr. Gilman, who was formerly a leader at Gilman's stable, the horse belonging to the Lowell undertakers. Mr. Gilman communicated with the police and the Nashua police station, and the baby was taken to the Nashua police station. The Nashua police station, the baby was taken to the Nashua police station. The Nashua police station, the baby was taken to the Nashua police station.

TWO SENT TO JAIL

For Selling Whiskey from Bottles on Street

Another Man Arrested Pleaded Not Guilty—Illegal Business on Chapel Street—Several Drunks From Out of town in Court

Today was "business day" in police court for the majority of members who appeared before Judge Hadley handed out out of town.

John H. Russell, the first prisoner called, was sentenced to thirty days in jail. When it was learned that Russell would be back to Lowell, Judge Hadley said that he did not like to have a man come to Lowell and get the better of the jail here at the expense of the people of this commonwealth. On condition that Russell would hike back to Lowell as soon as he was discharged from jail Judge Hadley cut the sentence down to ten days.

Mere Visitors

Maurice Lynch wandered away from Worcester and found the judge so attractive in this city that he stayed here until his condition warranted his being taken to the lockup. It cost Maurice $2.

From the Queen City

Margaret Griffin, who lives in Manchester, came to Lowell recently, and Saturday, after spending the day with some companions, indulged in too much liquor and was arrested. She was fined $2 in court this morning.

Second Offenders

John Bailer, Michael J. McDonald and James F. Fitzgerald, second offenders, were each fined $5. George Dunn, a second offender, escaped with a $3 fine.

There was one $2 drunk and seven releases.

Alfred Dusseault, a Sunday drunk, was fined $5.

Barroom in Collar

Amiel Edwards pleaded guilty to illegally keeping liquor and a fine of $50 was imposed. Inspector Dwyer of the liquor squad, who assisted in the raid made at Edwards' house at 12 rear of St. Chapel street, testified that the basement resembled a regular barroom.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Wm. Thorp, Well Known Cricketer

BOSTON, May 3.—William T. Thorp's sudden death on Saturday was regarded by cricketers as a distinct loss to the game, aside from sorrow at the passing away of a rarely genial and engaging character. He was one of the most expert batsmen in the country and his fame was such that some of the keener enthusiasts in the game traveled far to see him play. He was past the prime of his life, having been in the game for over 20 years, and his death was a great loss to the game.

exertion, he could send the ball faster and further than many who lead the heavy batmen in American cricket. It was the strict university form, to be acquired only by the very best of training. Mr. Thorp was over 6 feet in height and although of slight build was like and powerful. In 1901 he won the batting prize of the state cricket league with the best average ever made in New England, that of 50.15 runs per hundred. This record compares favorably with the averages of the leading English players of any year.

HEAVY RAIN HAS PUT A STOP TO GRASS FIRES

MOMBASA, Saturday, May 1.—The monsoon broke with a terrific thunder storm on Sunday night last, which lasted from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. the following morning and was the heaviest downpour ever known here. The rain fell in sheets, over four inches coming down in three hours. The rain luckily put a stop to the far-reaching grass fires which have been raging in the Rift valley for the past month. The fires have not only destroyed much game, but they have driven large numbers of animals many miles from the railway line, where, at normal times they like to congregate. The burnt down grass will be an advantage to Mr. Roosevelt's party, as a better view of the plains can now be obtained. But this is a condition that works both ways for sportsmen, for it makes much more difficult the stalking of rhinoceroses who, when the grass is long, are often caught sleeping before they realize their danger. With the grass burnt down, however, the chances of getting in a successful charge are more in their favor.

EX-PRES. AMADOR OF REPUBLIC OF PANAMA IS DEAD

PANAMA, May 3.—Dr. Manuel Amador, first president of the republic of Panama, died yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness. He was 75 years old.

Manuel Amador was one of the prime movers in the revolution in 1902 against Colombia, which led to the independence of Panama. He was born at Cartagena. He engaged in business with his father, and then went to Panama city and began the practice of medicine, finally becoming one of the eminent physicians of the country.

Dr. Amador, in politics, was a conservative and in 1862, much against his will, he was nominated and elected to the presidency of the state of Panama. He never took office, however, for a revolution was started and succeeded before his inauguration.

Afterward he steadily refused to accept high political office, tendered him and when at last he was chosen president of the republic of Panama, the honor came to him unsought.

Dr. Amador, prior to the last presidential election, wrote a letter to his constituents declining nomination, and General Obaldia last December was elected in his stead.

Immediately after Panama asserted its independence on November 1, 1903, it was recognized by the United States and 14 days later a treaty between the United States and the republic of Panama was signed, which permitted of the building and maintenance of the Panama canal.

MR. ROOSEVELT WAS NOT ATTACKED BY CRAZY MAN

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Hamburg arrived yesterday from Genoa and Naples. On the outward voyage former President Roosevelt and party were passengers. Captain Beaman said there was no truth in the story about Colonel Roosevelt published here. Mr. Roosevelt wrote last and never arose until 10 o'clock in the morning. He was not attacked by a crazy passenger and went to the steamer only once, where he was received with cheers. He never rode the camels in the gymnasium and in fact did nothing but conduct himself like a private gentleman on his travels.

STRIKE SPREADS BAKERS IN NEW YORK OUT OF WORK

NEW YORK, May 3.—Minor demonstrations against non-union bakers, the lockout by employers of 200 men in 30 shops in Harlem, the seizure of several batches of bread by strikers and the distribution of circulars calling on consumers to buy only bread bearing the union label, were the principal developments yesterday in the strike of East Side bakers, who demanded a fixed minimum wage scale and better sanitary surroundings. Hundreds of additional bakers joined the strike, but the employers, who are firm in refusing to meet the demands, declare that in the end they will win triumph. They declined the offer of special police protection.

A TRAGEDY THREE YOUNG BOYS LOST THEIR LIVES

NEW YORK, May 3.—An overturned boat, loading up and down in the off Prospect, L. I., yesterday with sail gear and fishing tackle, today told a story of a long island tragedy. Three boys, David Hultz, 15 years old, Henry Hultz, a year older, and William Hultz, a year older, were found floating in the water, their bodies still in the boat. The boat was found by a fisherman and was taken to the shore. The boys were found by a fisherman and were taken to the shore. The boys were found by a fisherman and were taken to the shore.

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbus, Ohio. — "I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during change of life. My doctor told me it was good, and since taking it I feel so much better that I can do all my work again. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fine remedy for all women's troubles, and I never forget to tell my friends what it has done for me."

Mrs. E. HANSON, 304 East Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

Another Woman Helped.

Graniteville, Vt. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter." — Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have

GAS WAS FATAL

Mrs. Josephine Lambert
Died Saturday Night

Mrs. Josephine Lambert, who was found unconscious in her room at 450 Merrimack street, Thursday night, with the gas turned on, died Saturday night at St. John's hospital, shortly before midnight.

Since the discovery of her sad plight, a letter was found in her room addressed to her aged grandfather, James McElish, aged 85 years, of Roberval, Que., in which she depicted her despondency and the fact that she had been abandoned by her parents in infancy. The letter intimated that she was tired of living.

Mrs. Lambert was 35 years of age, and a handsome woman. She has a husband, Louis Lambert, from whom she has been separated three or four years, and who now resides in Quebec. The body was removed to Undertaker Amodee Archambault's establishment.

A noted physician has said: "In nearly all cases of fatal chronic diseases of the heart, lungs, brain, kidneys, rheumatism, scrofula, etc., when the mucous membrane lining the stomach and intestinal canal is carefully examined, numerous traces of diseases will be discovered. Sometimes it will be congested, red and inflamed, and in many cases of long standing disease, thickened and ulcerated, thus proving conclusively that fatal complications or diseases of other organs were originally caused by chronic inflammation, congestion, thickening or ulceration of the mucous membrane lining the intestinal canal."

For the relief and cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and allied troubles Stomach-Rite is the best medicine and has fully demonstrated its true worth in thousands of cases as the grateful users have testified. My father, Dr. John Wilbur, believed you should take as little medicine as possible but when you did need medicine to take only the best. If you would be healthy, eat good, nourishing food and be able to properly digest it, Stomach-Rite assists the stomach and digestive organs, helps nature to do the work and brings a new life to the intestinal tract and cleanses the system of all impurities. If your food digests and your liver is active what health you enjoy—no indigestion—no constipation, a bright, clear complexion, active brain, a good appetite and able to enjoy your food, truly life is then worth living—Stomach-Rite has done these things for many New England people, won't you let it do the same for you?

Very truly yours,
DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

AUTO CARNIVAL

Discussed by Trades & Labor Council

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held yesterday afternoon, and considerable business was transacted during the meeting.

Much interest was displayed during the discussion of the proposed automobile carnival to be held in the fall under the auspices of the Lowell Automobile club. Many locals are yet to be heard from regarding the proposition for the big parade. The reports of the various crafts show that conditions are very good, especially in the building industry. Reports of interviews with representatives to the general court in interest of the eight hour bill were very interesting, and the council is watching closely the action of members of the senate on this bill.

REV. J. M. CRAIG

HELD A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION SATURDAY

The home of Rev. J. M. Craig in Belmont street was the scene, Saturday evening, of a very pleasant gathering of about one hundred members of the First Presbyterian church. It came to pass that Mr. Craig had another birthday, and that was the occasion of the happy affair. Pretty floral offerings were sent by different societies of the church, and all the way from Kansas came beautiful bouquets, sent by Clarence and Edna Craig, a son and daughter of the minister. Songs and readings were indulged in, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the ladies of the church, and the happy meeting closed by the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

DRACUT

The lid is down in Dracut, the "dry" year having been ushered in Saturday. Those who were instrumental in changing the town from the "yes" into the no-license column state that they will make it their business to see that the law is enforced to the letter and that those who attempt to do an illegal business within the confines of the town will be severely dealt with. Dracut had three saloons during the year ending May 1, one of which was located in the Navy Yard and the other two in the vicinity of Lakeview. The saloon in the Navy Yard was conducted by Martin Farrell. The Lakeside Hotel, formerly known as Merced's, located near the entrance to Lakeview, was closed up several months ago. Adolph Nolan, the licensee, signing an affidavit that he would discontinue the sale of liquor in Dracut after he had been raided several times. The Lakeview Inn, located just beyond Lakeview, closed Friday night and it is understood that the building will be transformed into a club house for the Armada Boating and Canoeing association, which is made up of Lowell men.

The Parker Avenue School Alumni association held a well attended and interesting meeting Saturday afternoon and a list of routine business was transacted.

The association considered plans for a social program to be carried out at its next regular meeting on June 2.

LOWELL MEN
ATTENDED CONVENTION HELD IN PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 3.—The second annual convention of the National Industrial Union of Textile Workers of the World was brought to a close in this city last night. Every textile center in the east was represented, delegates being present from this city, Philadelphia, Ellentown, Paterson, West Hoboken, Newark, New Bedford, Lowell, Lawrence, Woonsocket and Fall River. The report of the national secretary, Francis Miller, showed the membership to be six thousand at present. Officers for the ensuing year were nominated and will be chosen by referendum vote by the various locals. The next convention will be held at Philadelphia May 1, 1910.

BILLERICA

A well attended and successful May dance and entertainment was held Saturday night at the town hall under the auspices of the ways and means committee of the Unitarian church. Despite the wet weather the members and their friends turned out in large numbers and were well repaid for attending.

One of the features of the affair was the English May pole dance in which 12 children participated. Mrs. Joseph P. Talbot and Mrs. John A. Richardson had charge of the children, who were costumed and went through the different evolutions in a manner that was pleasing to the eye. Another pretty number on the program was the solo dance by Miss Doris Nichols of Wintrop. For an encore she gave a vocal selection which was highly appreciated. The accompanist of the evening was Miss Bessie Hadley of Lowell.

Falling Hair, Itching Scalp, Dandruff

Doctor Lassar, the famous German professor, says the first step toward stopping the falling of hair, itching scalp and dandruff is to keep the scalp clean by washing. This should be done daily in the beginning, and as the scalp assumes a more normal condition, the head can be washed less frequently. In any event, the head and hair should be cleansed at least twice a week with a reliable wash. It is just as necessary to keep the face and hands clean as to keep the scalp clean. The old idea that a shampoo once a month or two was sufficient is positively wrong. There is no remedy that will make hair grow after the roots are dead. There is no remedy for the hair of any special value unless it cleanses and restores the scalp to a healthy, soft, smooth, natural condition. So far as we know, Birt's Head Wash is the only thing of the kind that you can use and KNOW what you are using. It is not an ordinary shampoo, and it is not sold as a shampoo. It is a wash for the head and hair, made as good as such a thing can be made—and made so good that the formula is printed on the package as follows: Refined Soap—Used, of course, for its general cleansing properties. Glycerin—Used for its softening, soothing, emollient virtues. Glycerin is one of the most valuable applications in skin troubles. Salicylic Acid—An antiseptic which prevents the development of bacteria, putrefaction and disagreeable odors. White of Eggs—Taken from fresh eggs. It is used to assist in forming an emulsion during the process of lathering to remove the scaly matter from the scalp. Coconut Oil—Used because it is so readily absorbed by the skin. There is just enough to prevent the scalp from becoming too dry and to give the hair a delicate, natural lustre without leaving a greasy appearance. There is no secret about Birt's Head Wash, except, of course, the exact method of compounding, and the peculiar care taken in the making. Price 50c. a jar.

dancing was enjoyed to the music of Hibbard's orchestra. There was a number of out-of-town people present, a good sized delegation coming from Lowell. During the intermission, refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The hall was attractively decorated in honor of the occasion and presented a very pretty appearance. The ways and means committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following ladies: Mrs. Fred H. Parker, chairman; Mrs. John H. Kohlrausch, Mrs. John A. Richardson, Mrs. Joseph F. Talbot, Mrs. Charles H. Kohlrausch, Mrs. Elmer E. Cole and Mrs. Fred A. Casey.

At the vesper service at St. Andrew's church last night the rosary was recited and there was singing by the regular church choir assisted by a chorus of about 100 boys and girls. The children have been rehearsing the music for the occasion several weeks under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Fr. Foley, O. M. I.

"Stein-Bloch Clothes Capture London"

Under this heading is reproduced in the New York and Boston newspapers, a letter to the Stein-Bloch Co. from Selfridge & Co., Ltd., London, England, advising of the Immense success made by Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes at the big London store. We quote the advertisement in part:

Selfridge & Co., Ltd., the American Merchants, Score a Hit in London With the Best American Made Clothes

"Selfridge & Company Ltd., are owners of the largest and most progressive department store in London.

"After carefully comparing the best European with the best American products, they concluded that Stein-Bloch produce the best men's clothes in the world and that discriminating Englishmen would buy them in preference to any other.

"It was a daring thing to undertake. No one had ever tried it—and in England that's the best reason why no one ever should.

"But Selfridge is an American. He used to be at the head of the great retail house of Marshall Field & Company, Chicago.

"His buyers made a tour of investigation among the principal makers of the United States. They knew the characteristics of the British public.

"The Englishman is critical. Superficial smartness doesn't satisfy him. He digs beneath the surface and must be convinced as to material and workmanship. He insists on quality and has a shrewd eye for detail. He is a great stickler for correct style but will have nothing freakish.

"Having all these things in mind, Selfridge & Company, Ltd., studied the productions of various American manufacturers with great care.

"That they chose Stein-Bloch clothes with which to capture the English market, although not a surprise, was a very gratifying tribute to the clothes which for fifty-four years have been recognized as the hi-best grade made."

The D. S. O'Brien Co., Offere the Same Clothes to Lowell Men at the Smart Clothes Shop and Has Also Scored a Hit

At the same-time that Selfridge opened his mammoth store in London, the D. S. O'Brien Co. began its business, in a modest way, at the Smart Clothes Shop.

The two concerns, so dissimilar in size and strength, had similar business principles—Honest Merchandise, Fair prices and Efficient, Liberal Service to customers.

For the same reason that the London merchant selected Stein-Bloch clothes, they were made the leading clothes feature of the Smart Clothes Shop—because they're the best ready-to-wear in the world.

That's our judgment, after having acquired a fair knowledge of most of the good makes—and evidently it's the judgment of Selfridge & Co.

Stein-Bloch clothes have astonished the Londoners. In America, where 8 men out of 10 wear ready-to-wear clothes, Stein-Bloch stands for clothes supremacy.

At the Smart Clothes Shop, Stein-Bloch clothes are carried in cabinets, wrinkleless, hung up in easy view where they can be seen and handled by the customer.

If you have a favorite make, we'd appreciate the privilege of showing you these Stein-Bloch smart clothes for comparison—they're worth seeing. Stein-Bloch Suits and Overcoats $20.00 to $35.00.

NIGHT EDITION POLICE OFFICERS

Say Conditions in Middlesex Street Have Improved

When Mayor Brown announced at 10.10 o'clock this forenoon that his police board hearing was resumed, Mr. George W. Burke, son of Mr. John C. Burke of counsel for respondents, and who qualified as a reader "into the records," Saturday forenoon, took up the reading of the reports of hotel hearings where he left off when the hearing adjourned on Saturday.

A recess was taken during the forenoon and when the hearing resumed, Patrolman Gilbert Sheridan testified. His beat, he said, is in Middlesex street. He told of instructions he received from Supt. Moffatt to go to Middlesex street and clean the place up.

"What did you find to be the source of trouble and complaint there?" asked Mr. Burke.

Witness said a cheap lodging-house was the cause of it and in the month of March 57 arrests were made. The greater part of them were sent away, he said.

He said that most of the arrests were made after 11 p. m. He said most of them were intoxicated, and he thought they got their liquor in other places than the saloons. He said the cheap lodging house is on the property of the Appleton corporation. He said

SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The supreme court reversed and remanded the decision of the United States circuit court in the commodities clause cases but did not give directions as to the character of decree which shall be entered. The only directions were to enforce and apply the statute as it is now construed.

Briefly summarized, the decision of the supreme court in the commodities clause cases holds the law to be constitutional but it does not concede the contentions of the government as to its scope.

An especial exception was to the ownership of stock in a different corporation which, it was held, did not constitute such ownership as would prohibit transportation under the terms of the law. It was also held that ownership of the commodity applied only to the time of transportation. If before carrying it the railroad company has in good faith parted with the commodity it may carry it. The principal point of the decision was in relation to railroads holding the stock of subordinate companies and on that point the finding was favorable to roads.

EFFECT ON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 3.—Confusion as to the effect of the supreme court decision in the Hepburn commodities clause cases caused an extreme uncertainty on the stock exchange and brokers bought and sold stocks for a few minutes entirely on reports of the decision that reached the floor. The execution of orders contingent upon the court's decision was necessarily accompanied with much confusion and frequently brokers had to rebuy what they had already sold when the reports became conflicting. Activity on the stock exchange floor centered almost completely in Reading and thousands of shares of that stock were bought and sold.

Officials of the exchange reads affected by the decision said this afternoon that until they had an opportunity to carefully consider the text of the court's decision they would make no comment on its provisions.

The following is a summary of the opinion in the commodities case.

1.—The claim of the government that the provision contained in the Hepburn act approved June 29, 1896, commonly called the commodities clause, prohibits a railway company from moving commodities in interstate commerce because the company has manufactured, mined or produced them or owned them in whole or in part or has had an interest direct or indirect in them wholly irrespective of the relation or connection of the carrier with the commodities at the time of transportation, is decided to be untenable. It is also declared that the decision of the commodities clause relating to interstate interest direct or indirect does not embrace an interest which a carrier may have in a producing corporation as a result of the ownership by such corporation of stock in such corporation irrespective of the amount of stock which the carrier may own by such corporation provided the corporation has been organized in good faith.

2.—Rejecting the construction placed by the government upon the commodities clause it is decided that that clause "in all its provisions are harmoniously construed has solely for its object to prevent carriers engaged in interstate commerce from being associated in interest at the time of transportation with the commodities transported and therefore the commodities clause only prohibits railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce from transporting in such commerce commodities under the following circumstances and conditions:

MAJOR HAINS

Brother of Accused Man on the Witness Stand

FLUSHING, N. Y., May 3.—With Major John Hains, the defendant's brother, on the stand, the third week of the trial of Captain Peter Hains, Jr., for the killing of William Annis, opened in the supreme court here today.

Major Hains was under direct examination by counsel for the defense when court adjourned Saturday. Today John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for Captain Hains, concluded the direct examination of the witness by having him identify the round trip ticket coupons which Thornton Hains testified he had bought for the defendant and himself the day they visited Bayshore and Annis was shot. The witness said that Thornton Hains showed them to him several times after the tragedy.

According to present plans the defense will call Mrs. Virginia Hains, the mother of the defendant, as their last witness. She is expected to tell of the eccentricities of Captain Hains as a child.

District Attorney Dewitt began his cross-examination of Major Hains by asking him about the first interview he had with the defendant after the latter's return from the Philippines. The district attorney tried to bring out that each separate act of the defendant at that time was not necessarily irrational.

"Did your brother wear eye glasses when you met him after his return from the Philippines?" asked Mr. Dewitt.

"As I remembered, he carried them, but did not have them on at the time," replied the witness.

"As it is his custom to wear them?"

"He wore them on and on."

"Do you know when he stopped wearing them?"

"I don't know that he has stopped wearing them," the major replied.

The prosecution contended that Capt. Hains stopped wearing glasses since the shooting and because of his nearsightedness this would account in a manner for the peculiar stare in the defendant's eyes which had been referred to repeatedly by the witnesses for the defense.

Major Hains was then excused.

Emma Lavelle, a colored domestic employed in Capt. Hains' home during 1907 and 1908, was then called as a witness by the defense.

ONE MAN KILLED

Engine and Four Cars of Train Were Derailed

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 3.—As the noon train from Boston over the eastern division of the N. & M. was about to slow down for the regular stop, a switching engine backed into it and went half way through the baggage car, derailling the engine and four cars of the regular train, while the switcher was hurled into the freight yard where the engineer was killed and the fireman badly injured. Three other employees and three passengers were also cut and bruised.

The dead man was Richard E. Pray of Portsmouth.

The injured were: Fireman Edward Horndon of Portsmouth.

Engineer Leonard Newhall of Lynn.

Fireman Albert Springer of Portsmouth.

Have not coughed once all day?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says.

How the switcher happened to be near the main track was still a matter of investigation by the officials at 2 p. m. It was ascertained, however, that the switcher was in charge of new men and was about to cross the main track to the yard on the other side. The passenger train from Boston was on time and the engine was shutting off steam for the stop here when he saw the switcher was backing onto his train. The engine of the passenger train went by all right, but the tender of the switcher struck the baggage car and ploughed into it, the blow forcing a narrow gauge along the rails. Then came the train stopping with the tender embedded in the baggage car. The main part of the switcher had been hurled into the yard and there the body of Young Pray was found.

Fireman Horndon of the switcher had a narrow escape, while Express Messenger Brown was bruised by trunks falling on him. The other injured persons were nearly all badly cut by flying glass.

It took a couple of hours to clear the track.

Local physicians bound up the cuts and no one was sent to the hospital.

School Street Residents Want Street
Watered—Boston Doctor Will Talk on Tuberculosis—Other Items

Mayor Brown is not quite satisfied that the city council's defeat of his veto of the $54,000 paving loan was according to his wish.

The general statistics provide that in order to pass a loan order of this nature a two-thirds vote of the whole number of members of both branches is necessary but the charter provides that the city council, by a two-thirds vote of these present and voting, can pass the same order over the mayor's veto. The mayor has asked the city solicitor for an opinion in the matter.

Committee Meet
The committee on licenses and the committee on sewers are scheduled for meetings this afternoon, and tomorrow committee on lands and buildings will meet at 7.15; the park commission at 7.30 and the aldermen at 8 o'clock.

Water School Street
Residents of the lower portion of School street, between Broadway and Varney streets, are wondering why that portion of the street is not being watered as are other portions of the street.

They claim that owing to the clouds of dust that arise from automobiles and teams, it is impossible to keep their houses clean. A great many automobiles coming from the boulevard use School street and it is claimed that the dust cloud is almost continuous.

Dr. Cox Coming
Dr. Cox, superintendent of the tuberculosis department of Boston, will speak before the Lowell charity conference in the citizens' room at city hall next Monday evening and the public is invited.

The fight against tuberculosis is looked upon as one of the most important of the age, and cities throughout the country, especially Boston, are actively at work in this direction. "Fight the dread disease to the last ditch" is the slogan, and Dr. Cox will tell how Boston is going at it. His talk will be of great interest along this line.

AN INSANE WOMAN

Killed Herself and Her Young Son

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn., May 3.—Driven insane apparently by the sight of a memorial card which she had ordered for her daughter, Mrs. Bernard Rister this morning beat called to deliver the cards, over the head with an axe, inflicting very serious wounds, shot and killed her two-year-old son Bernard, and then took her own life by sending a bullet through her heart.

The tragedy occurred at Jacob's Hollow and it became known when the wounded man Emery was brought into Stafford Springs for medical attention.

An order for a memorial card for her daughter Elsie, 14 years of age, Emery came from Boston this morning to deliver it. According to his story, Mrs. Rister seemed pleased with the work. He had turned from her for a moment, he said, thinking that she had gone to the other side of the room to care for her baby. At that moment, as he turned he saw Mrs. Rister raising the axe to strike again. Before he could get out of the way she had again brought the blunt end of the weapon upon his head. Weak and

LOWELL YOUTH ASSESSORS OUT

Figured in a Sensation at Nashua, N. H.

About 12.45 o'clock yesterday morning a team with three men drove up to the house of George Gilman, 15 Martin street, and calling him to the door placed in his hands a male infant aged about a year, says the Nashua correspondent of the Manchester Union. The baby was quite destitute as to clothing, but had with him a nursing bottle. One of the men in the wagon, whom Mr. Gilman thinks he recognized as a man employed by a firm of Lowell undertakers and who goes by the nickname "Nig," told Mr. Gilman, he says, to keep the child until he heard from him again. They then drove away. The hostler at Gray's stable, thinks belongs to the Lowell undertakers. Mr. Gilman communicated with the police and Deputy Marshal Campbell investigated. He learned that a team answering the description was seen at the Acton depot going Lowellward. Deputy Campbell secured a fast horse and drove as fast as he could to the bridge without overlooking the quarry. Yesterday forenoon Mr. Gilman waited on City Marshal Wheeler with the news that the child was sick and apparently threatened with pneumonia. The marshal referred him to County Physician Hammond. The latter investigated on the lungs and also a broken arm, but whether a recent break, he did not determine. He sent the child to the Nashua hospital in charge of a nurse and ordered that it have good care. He also got William S. Norwell to go to his store and get clothing for the child. Marshal Wheeler asked the Lowell police to investigate at that end, but he has not heard from them. Mr. Gilman has a wife and one or two children.

The Lowell police investigated the case and learned that the child belonged to a man who is employed by a local undertaker, but the name of the man has not been divulged owing to the fact that the man's mother is on her death bed and it is felt that if the name were made public it might hasten her death.

According to the facts in the case learned by the local police the man has had the child cared for in this city for the past year, and early yesterday morning took it to Mr. Gilman's house and made arrangements for its care, promising to return next Saturday night to see how the child was getting along.

When he learned yesterday that the child was ill he immediately went to Nashua. The police claim that the father had no intention of deserting the child, his only desire being to secure a good home for it.

6 O'CLOCK PEACE CONGRESS

Great Meeting Was Opened in Chicago Today

CHICAGO, May 3.—The second national peace congress was opened formally today, Chicago, and was well attended by delegates. Robert Taft, president of the American Peace Society, was in the chair. Addresses of welcome were made by Gov. Charles S. Deneen and Mayor Fred A. Busse of Chicago. The Rev. E. R. Rieu, chairman of the executive committee, welcomed the delegates to the work of the congress and told them of the arrangements that had been made for their comfort and convenience.

A letter from President Taft was read by Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, who had been delegated to represent the administration. Miss Anna R. Reikstein of Boston announced a "world petition to the third Hague conference."

Dr. Benjamin F. Trueblood, secretary of the American peace society, told of the present position of the peace movement and Dean W. P. Rogers of the Cincinnati law school, spoke of "The Dawn of Universal Peace."

In his address of welcome Dr. Bartlett said:

We welcome you to the serious work of the congress. Large have been the expenditures here, but we expect you to do your work so faithfully that the achievements of this gathering will be immeasurably greater than its expenditures. This congress must be more than a spasmodic expression of protest against war, and a resolution of the disengagement would be desirable. It should inaugurate a still more effective campaign of education of the people in the interests of permanent world peace. The burdens of war are borne by the common people and in the end the verdict of the war or peace must rest with the rank and file of the people.

Exercises of many kinds were held in the city yesterday as a preliminary to this session. Special peace services were held in all of the churches in the morning. In the afternoon there was a labor demonstration and the socialist held mass meetings. In the evening a mass meeting was held

BOY AND TWO MEN ELECTROCUTED

PARIS, May 3.—A boy and two men were electrocuted today before the eyes of several thousand spectators in the Avenue St. Ouen. The boy was walking along a fence flanking the tracks of the belt railroad when he lost his footing and fell upon an exposed high tension cable. He was killed instantly.

A workman jumped over the fence and rushed to the boy's rescue, but the instant he touched the body he fell dead. Another workman, ignoring the warning cries of the people, followed the first and tried to save his comrade but he shared a similar fate.

ABNER ACQUITTED LAST CASE IN BRETHITT FEUD

JACKSON, Ky., May 3.—John Abner, charged with the assassination of John Cockrill, head of the Brethitt feud, was acquitted today. This cleared all doubts of the feud case in which Judge James Hargis, Edward Callahan, B. F. French and several others were accused and which resulted in the deaths of Dr. Cox, James Cockrill and James H. Maynard. The case was heard before Judge Holt, specially appointed by Gov. Wilson. Curtis Jett and John Smith also were charged with the murder. Jett confessed firing the shot.

THE CHEYENNE'S CRUISE

WASHINGTON, May 3.—While the official report has not yet reached Washington regarding the long cruise just completed by the U. S. S. Cheyenne, one on which oil was used as fuel, such information as has come to Washington shows that the vessel on a high power trial trip has been able to make a higher rate of speed than with the coal and her steaming radius of 1500 miles with coal has been increased to 2200 with oil. The oil is used in a gaseous state.

GAS WAS FATAL

Mrs. Josephine Lambert
Died Saturday Night

Mrs. Josephine Lambert, who was found unconscious in her room at 450 Merrimack street, Thursday night, with the gas turned on, died Saturday night at St. John's hospital, shortly before midnight.

A letter was found in her room addressed to her aged grandfather, James McElish, aged 85 years, of Roberval, Que., in which she depicted her despondency and the fact that she had been abandoned by her parents in infancy. The letter intimated that she was tired of living.

Mrs. Lambert was 55 years of age, and a handsome woman. She has a husband, Louis Lambert, from whom she has been separated three or four years, and who now resides in Quebec. The body was removed to Undertaker Amodee Archambault's establishment.

AUTO CARNIVAL

Discussed by Trades & Labor Council

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held yesterday afternoon, and considerable business was transacted during the meeting.

Much interest was displayed during the discussion of the proposed automobile carnival to be held in the fall under the auspices of the Lowell Automobile club. Many locals are yet to be heard from regarding the proposition for the big parade. The reports of the various crafts show that conditions are very good, especially in the building industry. Reports of interviews with representatives to the general court in interest of the eight hour bill were very interesting, and the council is watching closely the action of members of the senate on this bill.

REV. J. M. CRAIG

HELD A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION SATURDAY

The home of Rev. J. M. Craig in Belmont street was the scene, Saturday evening, of a very pleasant gathering of about one hundred members of the First Presbyterian church. It came to pass that Mr. Craig had another birthday, and that was the occasion of the happy affair. Pretty floral offerings were sent by different societies of the church, and all the way from Kansas came beautiful bouquets, sent by Clarence and Edna Craig, a son and daughter of the minister. Songs and readings were indulged in, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the ladies of the church, and the happy meeting closed by the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

DRACUT

The lid is down in Dracut, the "dry" year having been ushered in Saturday. Those who were instrumental in changing the town from the "yes" into the no-licence column state that they will make it their business to see that the law is enforced to the letter and that those who attempt to do an illegal business within the confines of the town will be severely dealt with.

Dracut had three saloons during the year ending May 1, one of which was located in the Navy Yard and the other two in the vicinity of Lakeview. The saloon in the Navy Yard was conducted by Martin Farrell. The Lakeside hotel, formerly known as Mercier's hotel, situated near the entrance to Willow Dale was closed up several weeks ago. Ad-hard Nolan, the licensee, signing an affidavit that he would discontinue the sale of liquor in Dracut after he had been raided several times. The Lakeview Inn, located just beyond Lakeview, closed Friday night and it is understood that the building will be transferred into a club house for the Amherst Bowling and Caneel association, which is made up of Lowell men.

The Parker Avenue School Alumni association held a well attended and interesting meeting Saturday afternoon and a list of routine business was transacted.

The association considered plans for a social program to be carried out at its next regular meeting on June 1.

LOWELL MEN

ATTENDED CONVENTION HELD IN PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 2.—The second annual convention of the National Industrial union of Textile Workers of the World was brought to a close in this city last night. Every textile center in the east was represented, delegates being present from this city, Philadelphia, Elmwood, Paterson, West Hoboken, Newark, New Bedford, Lowell, Lawrence, Woonsocket and Fall River. The report of the national secretary, Francis Miller, showed the membership to be six thousand at present. Officers for the ensuing year were nominated and will be chosen by referendum vote by the various locals. The next convention will be held at Philadelphia May 1, 1910.

BILLERICA

A well attended and successful May dance and entertainment was held Saturday night at the town hall under the auspices of the ways and means committee of the Unitarian church. Despite the wet weather the members and their friends turned out in large numbers and were well repaid for attending.

One of the features of the affair was the English May pole dance in which 12 children participated. Mrs. Joseph P. Talbot and Mrs. John A. Richardson had charge of the children, who were costumed and went through the different evolutions in a banner that was pleasing to the eye. Another pretty number on the program was the solo dance by Miss Doris Nichols of Whitcomb. For an encore she gave a vocal selection which was highly appreciated. The accompanist of the evening was Miss Bessie Hadley of Lowell.

After the entertainment general

dancing was enjoyed to the music of Hibbard's orchestra. There was a number of out-of-town people present.

A good sized delegation coming from Lowell. During the intermission, refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The hall was attractively decorated in honor of the occasion and presented a very pretty appearance. The ways and means committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following ladies: Mrs. Fred H. Parker, chairman; Mrs. John H. Kohlrausch, Mrs. John A. Richardson, Mrs. Joseph F. Talbot, Mrs. Charles H. Kohlrausch, Mrs. Elmer E. Cole and Mrs. Fred A. Casey.

At the vesper services at St. Andrew's church last night the rosary was recited and there was singing by the head and hair, made as good as such a thing can be made—and made so good that the formula is printed on the package as follows: Refined Soap—Used, of course, for its general cleansing properties. Glycerin—Used for its softening, soothing, emollient virtues. Glycerin is one of the most valuable applications in skin troubles. Salicylic Acid—An antiseptic which prevents the development of bacteria, putrefaction and disagreeable odors. White of Eggs—Taken from fresh eggs. It is used to assist in forming an emulsion during the process of lathering to remove the scaly matter from the scalp. Coconut Oil—Used because it is so readily absorbed by the skin. There is just enough to prevent the scalp from becoming too dry and to give the hair a delicate, natural lustre without leaving a greasy appearance. There is no secret about Birt's Head Wash, except, of course, the exact method of compounding, and the peculiar care taken in the making. Price 50c. a jar.

regular church choir assisted by a chorus of about 100 boys and girls. The children have been rehearsing the music for the occasion several weeks under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Fr. Foley, O. M. I.

Falling Hair, Itching Scalp, Dandruff

Doctor Lassar, the famous German professor, says the first step toward stopping the falling of hair, itching scalp and dandruff is to keep the scalp clean by washing. This should be done daily in the beginning, and as the scalp assumes a more normal condition, the head can be washed less frequently. In any event, the head and hair should be cleaned at least twice a week with a reliable wash. It is just as necessary to keep the face and hands clean as to keep the scalp clean. The old idea that a shampoo once a month or two was sufficient is positively wrong. There is no remedy that will make hair grow after the roots are dead. There is no remedy for the hair of any special value unless it cleanses and restores the scalp to a healthy, soft, smooth, natural condition. So far as we know, Birt's Head Wash is the only thing of the kind that you can use and KNOW what you are using. It is not an ordinary shampoo, and it is not sold as a shampoo. It is a wash for the

"Stein-Bloch Clothes Capture London"

Under this heading is reproduced in the New York and Boston newspapers, a letter to the Stein-Bloch Co. from Selfridge & Co., Ltd., London, England, advising of the Immense success made by Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes at the big London store. We quote the advertisement in part:

Selfridge & Co., Ltd., the American Merchants, Score a Hit in London With the Best American Made Clothes

"Selfridge & Company Ltd., are owners of the largest and most progressive department store in London.

"After carefully comparing the best European with the best American products, they concluded that Stein-Bloch produce the best men's clothes in the world and that discriminating Englishmen would buy them in preference to any other.

"It was a daring thing to undertake. No one had ever tried it—and in England that's the best reason why no one ever should.

"But Selfridge is an American. He used to be at the head of the great retail house of Marshall Field & Company, Chicago.

"His buyers made a tour of investigation among the principal makers of the United States. They knew the characteristics of the British public.

"The Englishman is critical. Superficial smartness doesn't satisfy him. He digs beneath the surface and must be convinced as to material and workmanship. He insists on quality and has a shrewd eye for detail. He is a great stickler for correct style but will have nothing freakish.

"Having all these things in mind, Selfridge & Company, Ltd., studied the productions of various American manufacturers with great care.

"That they chose Stein-Bloch clothes with which to capture the English market, although not a surprise, was a very gratifying tribute to the clothes which for fifty-four years have been recognized as the highest grade made."

The D. S. O'Brien Co., Offere the Same Clothes to Lowell Men at the Smart Clothes Shop and Has Also Scored a Hit

At the same time that Selfridge opened his mammoth store in London, the D. S. O'Brien Co. began its business, in a modest way, at the Smart Clothes Shop.

The two concerns, so dissimilar in size and strength, had similar business principles—Honest Merchandise, Fair prices and Efficient, Liberal Service to customers.

For the same reason that the London merchant selected Stein-Bloch clothes, they were made the leading clothes feature of the Smart Clothes Shop—because they're the best ready-to-wear in the world.

That's our judgment, after having acquired a fair knowledge of most of the good makes—and evidently it's the judgment of Selfridge & Co.

Stein-Bloch clothes have astonished the Londoners. In America, where 8 men out of 10 wear ready-to-wear clothes, Stein-Bloch stands for clothes supremacy.

At the Smart Clothes Shop, Stein-Bloch clothes are carried in cabinets, wrinkleless, hung up in easy view where they can be seen and handled by the customer.

If you have a favorite make, we'd appreciate the privilege of showing you these Stein-Bloch smart clothes for comparison—they're worth seeing.

Stein-Bloch Suits and Overcoats $20.00 to $35.00.

at Belmont Park by beating the card. It was nothing for him to wager anywhere from $500 to $20,000 on a race, yet he found no trouble in getting his money down. A week after this noted turf plunger took $22,000 from the books, however, he was practically broke and gave his notes for losing wagers at Jamaica, which he made good later. Johnson has blown in an immense amount of money on the races—just how much he doesn't know himself—but he says that so long as there's a chance to back his opinion he'll stick to the game, if only for the excitement and amusement he derives from it. It is safe to say, however, that Johnson and other turf plungers of days gone by will be pretty well curbed when the sport begins on the metropolitan circuit.

Word comes from England that the new heavy weight champion's name is William Hague and that the nickname "Iron" is the pugilist's spelling of the word "iron." Hague is a Yorkshire man, 26 years old. He is six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. He has taken part in fourteen fights, six of which he has won by landing right handed knockout blows. In the recent battle with Carter, slain in London, Hague scored a clean knockout in the first round, putting his man down the first time with a body blow, again with a swing on the neck and a third time for Lewis with a great smash on the point of the jaw. It is said, though, that Hague is just a plain, everyday slinger, possessing very little boxing science and being somewhat averse to rigorous training methods. When he meets Sam Langford at the National Sporting Club on May 2, Hague will be put to a severe test. Langford said before sailing from here on Thursday that he would carry the fight to Hague without delay and would quickly demonstrate whether the burly Briton is a real pugilist or a comforter. Americans who saw Hague stop Moir declare that he isn't much and that Langford will put him away.

Before Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, goes into the ring with Dave Deshler for a twelve round bout in Boston next Tuesday night he will insist upon having some say about the referee. The late decision at the end of the Langford-Ferguson bout in Boston has caused so much unfavorable comment that boxers who do not like to be beaten say they will not perform in that city if a native is the third man in the ring. Welsh said yesterday that he would go on with the Deshler bout if the Armory club would accept Charlie White or any other unprejudiced ring judge to preside inside the ropes.

John L. Sullivan thinks that Ketchel has a chance to beat Jack Johnson. "Ketchel is a game young fellow and a natural fighter," says the big fellow. "He is one of the greatest fighters that ever stepped into a ring. He was fast enough to beat through the defence of clever Jack O'Brien, which makes me believe that he can get to the black man. I don't think Johnson can take a good punching, and if Ketchel hammers him in the stomach, he will not be the fellow with the punch every time. The Burns-Johnson moving pictures prove that the negro is dead slow on his feet and knows little or nothing about aggressive tactics. With his superior weight and height he should have stopped Burns in a couple of rounds if he'd been really high class champion. Burns was just a poor, misguided, overrated dub in the ring with Johnson. If Ketchel had been there instead of the black fellow Burns wouldn't have lasted half the distance. Ketchel has youth in his favor and also the fact that he will weigh 180 pounds. With that kind of beef and brawn behind his punches I think he will make Johnson quit."

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The members of the Moore Spinning Cricket club gave a party, complimentary to the recently organized Ladies' auxiliary, in the Town hall, Saturday evening. President Albert Stophard officiated as master of ceremonies and introduced Mrs. Herbert Harey, president of the Ladies' auxiliary, who spoke on the work of the organization. Mrs. Ernest Chippendale made a detailed report of the recent tea party conducted by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Albert Stophard, the treasurer, reported on the financial end, and in a few well chosen remarks presented to Arthur Hillier, the secretary of the cricket club, the sum of $141.57 as the net proceeds of the tea party.

Mr. Hillier accepted the money in a neat speech, and he will turn the money over to the treasurer of the club.

Vice President Albert E. McCallie also made remarks, and then on motion of Capt. James Kershaw, the Ladies' auxiliary was given a hearty vote of thanks, and the various reports or record spread upon the record of the club.

Dancing was enjoyed until 10 o'clock, when refreshments were served. The ladies received floral favors. During the intermission the following program was enjoyed: Monologue and song by George Patterson; songs by James K. Heald, Mrs. George Patterson and Mrs. William Brown; duet by Joseph Hoyle and Albert McCallie; selections on the piano were given by James Senior, and the various numbers on the program were well enjoyed.

Dancing was again started after the intermission, and enjoyed until 11:30 o'clock, when the enjoyable evening was brought to close by all present singing "Hail, Shilling Horn."

MAKING HISTORY
The old saying, "Carrying coals to Newcastle," has become obsolete. "Carrying clothes to London" is the new watchword.

When Selfridge, the Chicago merchant, retired from the firm of Marshall Field & Co. he had in view the installation in London of a big department store to be operated on American lines.

One of the departments is ready-to-wear clothes for men, and Mr. Selfridge has to import from America the clothes he wants.

After several months of investigation among the best factories of the country, his buyers selected Stein-Bloch smart clothes for the critical London trade. The Selfridge store opened in March last, and was an immense success from the start. The American ready-to-wear clothes for men astonished the English public who were not familiar with the high standard of tailoring that prevails in American ready-made shops.

When you consider that England is the center of the woollen business of the world and London the source of men's fashions, it is significant that the English come to America to get the best tailoring.

It marks an epoch in the business history of this country, and is a strong tribute to the supremacy of Stein-Bloch clothes.

The D. S. O'Brien Co., which is the best representative for Stein-Bloch clothes, has a half page ad. in this issue that is worth reading.

WESTFORD

The selectmen Saturday awarded the contract for repaving a section of Main St. to H. W. Tarbell of Lowell. At the annual town meeting in March the town voted to expend $1000 this year on the roads at the center. The plan of the board of selectmen is to finish a section of the road near the residence of A. Bicknell and then commence near the residence of George T. Day and repair the road toward the center of the town as far as the $1000 will permit. The board of selectmen reported a section of the street last year, spending about $500 putting in stone gutters and catch basins to take care of the water, and resurfacing the road bed. The contract for completing Broadway from Chandler's bridge to O. G. Sarver's machine shop, Graniteville, was awarded to John A. Healy.

Members of the school committee of the three towns, Westford, Acton and Littleton, met at the Wm. E. Frost school Thursday afternoon and elected Arthur B. Webber of Littleton superintendent of schools for the three towns. Mr. Webber has served the towns for the past three years and has given his services for the town.

THE LOWELL SUN

MGR. PATTERSON

Calls Senator Lodge a Bigot

BOSTON, May 2.—Rev. Mgr. George J. Patterson, V. G., was the guest last night of the Holy Name society of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, East Boston, and delivered a forceful address in which he called upon the men of the assembly to live up to the principles of citizenship.

The church was crowded with members of the society and residents of the parish. The service opened with congregational singing, after which the rosary was recited, led by Rev. Fr. John F. Kelly.

Mgr. Patterson spoke in part as follows:

"Today we are looking for men who will do us honor in the state and the city, men of honor and integrity. We have got to get together in America and exercise our citizenship. Why do American citizens stay away from the polls? It is indeed a poor type of citizenship that does not exercise the right to vote, as the ballot is the most sacred thing in the world to man after his church."

"But, my dear men, when you go to the polls be sure that it is with pure and clean hearts. Live up to all the requirements of your Holy Name society and you are sure to have a clean and pure heart and to be a noble and worthy citizen of your country."

"By going to the polls with clean hearts you can rest assured that Catholics will never be placed in high offices."

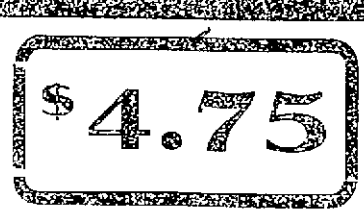

within the gift of the state and city at war there were no foreigners in the American ranks. I would call attention to the O'Briens, the Kellys and the Sullivans—and if I'm not mistaken, it was an O'Brien who caught the first British ship.

"Mr. Lodge would have you believe that it was all Pilgrim fathers, or all Protestant Americans that fought the revolutionary war. But, mark you, honesty, honor and integrity you can there does not appear a Lodge among them."

"Stand together, by dear men. Never sell your vote; one who does this ought to go to prison and be locked in all the rest of his life. Live up to your faith every day in your lives and you will be better and nobler citizens of the United States."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCallie of 951 Central street are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Wm. Thorp, Well Known Cricketer

BOSTON, May 3.—William T. Thorp's sudden death on Saturday was regarded by cricketers as a distinct loss to the game, aside from sorrow at the passing away of a rarely genial and engaging character. He was one of the most expert batters in the country and his fame was such that some of the keener enthusiasts in the game traveled far to see him play. He was past master in the game of cricket, having the rare acquisition of perfect "twist" play. Thorp combined both, so that with the least approvement, he could send the ball faster and farther than many who had the heavy bat in American cricket. It was the strict university form, to be acquired only by the very best of training. Mr. Thorp was over 6 feet in height and although of slight build was a fine and powerful cricketer. In 1904 he won the batting prize of the state cricket league with the best average ever made in New England, that of 59.15 runs per inning. This record compares favorably with the averages of the leading English players of any year.

He had captained the state team against Rhode Island and two seasons back he organized and captained a team on a Canadian tour.

HEAVY RAIN

HAS PUT A STOP TO GRASS FIRES

MONROVIA, Saturday, May 1.—The monsoon broke with a terrific thunder storm on Sunday night last, which lasted from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. the following morning and was the heaviest downpour ever known here. The rain fell in sheets, over four inches coming down in three hours. The rain has luckily put a stop to the grass-fighting grass fires which have been raging in the hills for the past month. The fires have not only destroyed much game, but they have driven large numbers of animals many miles from the highway line, where, at present times they like to congregate. The burnt down grass will be an advantage to Mr. Roosevelt's party, as a better view of the plains can now be obtained. But this is a condition that works both ways for sportsmen, for it makes much more difficult the stalking of rhinoceros who, when the grass is long, are often caught sleeping before they realize their danger. With the grass burned down, however, the chance of getting in a successful charge are more in their favor.

PEACE CONGRESS

CHICAGO, May 3.—The first formal session of the second National Peace congress will be held in Chicago this afternoon. Robert Treat Paine of Boston, president of the American Peace society, will preside. Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger will read the president's message to the delegates. Gov. Charles S. Deneen will welcome the delegates to the state and Mayor Fred A. Busse will welcome them to the city.

EX-PRES. AMADOR

OF REPUBLIC OF PANAMA IS DEAD

PANAMA, May 3.—Dr. Manuel Amador, first president of the republic of Panama, died yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness. He was 75 years old.

Manuel Amador was one of the prime movers in the revolution in 1903 against Colombia, which led to the independence of Panama. He was born at Cartagena. He engaged in business with his brother at Santiago, state of Panama, and then went to Panama City and began the practice of medicine, finally becoming one of the eminent physicians of the country.

Dr. Amador, in politics, was a conservative and in 1869, much against his will, he was nominated and elected to the presidency of the state of Panama. He never took office, however, for a revolution was started and succeeded before his inauguration.

Afterward he steadfastly refused to accept high political office, tendered him and when at last he was chosen president of the republic of Panama, the honor came to him unsought.

Dr. Amador, prior to the last presidential election, wrote a letter to his constituents declining nomination, and General Orellana last December was elected in his stead.

Immediately after Panama asserted its independence on November 4, 1903, it was recognized by the United States and 11 days later a treaty between the United States and the republic of Panama was signed, which permitted of the building and maintenance of the Panama canal.

MR. ROOSEVELT

WAS NOT ATTACKED BY CRAZY MAN

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Hamburg arrived yesterday from Genoa and Naples. On the outward voyage former President Roosevelt and party were passengers. Captain Burmeister said there was no truth in the story about Colonel Roosevelt published here. Mr. Roosevelt wrote late and never arose until 10 o'clock in the morning. He was not attacked by a crazy passenger and went to the storeroom only once, where he was received with cheers. He never rode the camels in the gymnasium and in fact did nothing but conduct himself like a private gentleman on his travels.

STRIKE SPREADS

BAKERS IN NEW YORK OUT OF WORK

NEW YORK, May 3.—Minor demonstrations against non-union bakers, the lockout by employers of 300 men in 50 shops in Harlem, the seizure of several batches of bread by strikers and the distribution of circulars calling on consumers to buy only bread bearing the union label, were the principal developments yesterday in the strike of East Side bakers, who demanded a fixed minimum wage scale and better sanitary surroundings. Hundreds of additional bakers joined the strike, but the employers, who are firm in refusing to meet the demands, declare that in the end they will triumph. They declined the offer of special police protection.

A TRAGEDY

THREE YOUNG BOYS LOST THEIR LIVES

NEW YORK, May 3.—An overturned boat, floating up and down in a cove off Prospect L. I. yesterday, with sail gone and rudder, entangled, told the story of a Long Island sound tragedy. Three boys, David Holtz, 16 years old, Henry Galloway, a year older, both of Merrick, L. I., and William Kuna, 15 years old, of West Hempstead, N. J., were last Saturday afternoon on a clamming expedition. A stiff wind was blowing at the time. They did not return at night. Search was then started, which resulted in the finding of a capsized boat.

SAILORS ENTERTAINED

SAY FRANCISCO, May 3.—Six hundred sailors and about one hundred of the local police and the Japanese training commission, which arrived here Saturday, were entertained in grand style at a banquet given by the Japanese Consulate in San Francisco. The banquet was given at the Hotel de Ville, where the Japanese Consulate is located, and was given to the sailors, who were entertained in their honor at the banquet.

APPLE KING DEAD

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 3.—Ester King, known as the "Apple King," died Saturday night. Mr. King, who was a well-known fruit merchant, was a resident of Brooklyn. He was a student of the University of California and was a member of the Apple King Club. He was a well-known fruit merchant and was a member of the Apple King Club.

TARIFF BILL

HAS ONE VERY IMPORTANT FEATURE

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The senate tariff bill, in the section which deals with the maximum and minimum proposition, has, in the judgment of tariff experts, one very important feature. It practically vests in the president the power to declare a tariff war against any nation, or to refrain from any such war. It is given to him to decide whether any nation is discriminating against the products of the United States in its system of duties. This permits the government, through the state department, and to the other agencies provided by law, to make agreements with any nation as to trade and tariff concessions which can be made effective by a proclamation of the president without necessity of anything in the way of legislation or treaty agreement.

In this way the delay can be obviated which would necessarily follow the submission to congress or to the senate of any proposition requiring such sanction and approval before putting it into effect.

The bill, it is explained, authorizes the president to employ at his discretion any persons to secure information or assist him in the discharge of these duties, which would mean that he can appoint commissioners representing the United States to go abroad and make agreements with foreign nations. At the same time attention is paid to the wishes of those who are not in favor of reciprocal agreements of any kind. The propositions make it impossible to have any rate established lower than the rate in the tariff law.

Any change in the case of any nation must be a change in the way of higher duties. No amount of bargaining or concession can secure for any country any reduction in the tariff law.

A STATUE

TO THE MEMORY OF LONGFELLOW

WASHINGTON, May 3.—As a fitting tribute to genius and letters, a magnificent statue of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, America's most popular poet, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies in this city, on May 7. The occasion will be one of the most brilliant because of the presence of the president, literary men and practically all of the remaining relatives of the poet.

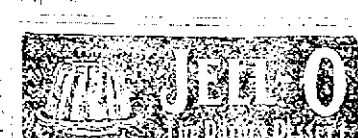

The statue, which is located in a small triangular park at the corner of Congress street and U street, is of heroic size of pure white marble. The pedestal in striking contrast, is of reddish brown marble, imported from Scottish quarries. William Couper of New York is the sculptor.

Justice Peck of the supreme court of the United States will preside at the ceremonies. The statue will be presented to the city by Brigadier H. Warner, treasurer of the Longfellow National Memorial association, through the efforts of which organization the monument was made a reality and will be accepted by President Taft.

LAW MAKERS

HAVE BEEN EXPOSED TO SMALL POX

OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—There is a good deal of alarm among the law makers of Canada over the disclosure yesterday that they have been exposed to smallpox. The 19-year-old son of Senator Macdonald came to Ottawa last week and spent a day or two with his father about the precincts of parliament, the Friday morning he had breakfast with his father in the restaurant of parliament, which is frequented by his constituents and members of the cabinet. On the same day he was exposed to smallpox and as there was a rash of 15 cases he was placed under medical observation.

William S. Rigby Just Returns From the West, Talks Interest- ingly of the "City of Angels"

Mr. William S. Rigby, formerly of this city, arrived in town Saturday from Los Angeles, Cal., after three beautiful and profitable years in the city of Manchester, Eng., where he will spend the summer, returning to Lowell in the fall and thence to Los Angeles, where he will accept of a position fully located as manager of the Eng-this city. The "Kid" was put down as having "overdone" and was sent to the west to recover. The evidence that he has recovered is the fact that Mr. Rigby saw him go to a 145 pound boxing match at Los Angeles, and the "Kid" never weighed over 115 in his life.

the Los Angeles pool room, an establishment boasting of 15 pool tables and five billiard tables beside the numerous other pool rooms and a well regulated pool room. Mr. Rigby is formerly employed at the Bagshaw Cigar Mills, and at the Merrimack print works, but being a victim of asthma took his physician's advice and went west, where he located in Los Angeles and met with success from the start. Mr. Rigby is now engaged in placing tables of the Lowell boys and is expected to have them are "Bob" Campbell and William Donohoe, formerly of Central City, the latter a son of John T. Donohoe of Lakeview avenue. Mr. Campbell is stage manager of the Grand Opera House and Mr. Donohoe, the business manager of the theatre. Both are both are making money and both are making money. There is John T. H. Campbell, a brother of "Bob," formerly employed by the C. H. Joyce Co., who went to Los Angeles in very poor health a few years ago and who now has entirely recovered and is back as manager of a large saloon. Mr. Campbell's wife is Mrs. C. H. Joyce. This family to Los Angeles a year ago. Then there is Eddie Curran, formerly of Moody street, who holds a position of responsibility in Los Angeles, and finally there is "Kid" Brady, the boxer, a brother of "Jockey" Brady of

GRAND TRUNK the local network of G. T. R. lines in New England.
Credit to Mr. Hays

And Its Relation to N. E. Business

SAVES US FROM THE TRUNK LINES

Which Would Send All Freight to New York Thus Discriminating Against Boston

THAT in the weathered freight department question brought to himself and to his read a good deal of favorable comment.

It is not so well known, however, that for a number of years past, the Grand Trunk railway system has each summer inaugurated special reduced fares in order to attract tourists from Chicago and the western states to the seaside and mountain resorts in New England.

THIS they have done in the face of

The Montreal Herald of April 26 has the following article showing the relation of the Grand Trunk to the prosperity of New England:

That the twentieth century belongs to Canada is shown by the very great influence exerted by Canadian businesses on the life and progress of the United States. A few years ago Canada was little heard of in the United States, except in a limited business circle. But today that is changed. The paper issued in the United States has a good share given up to Canadian news and everywhere Canada is becoming as well known as any of the states.

At the present time the Grand Trunk railway system is attracting the most very strong obstacles, arising from the conflicting interests of the railways leading from the west to New York and the Atlantic coast resorts to the south of New York.

Naturally from Chicago and other populous cities in the west, the resorts being nearer, are reached a little more cheaply than the New England resorts referred to, but as the railways leading westward from Chicago to Colorado, and the Pacific coast direct to summer vacations, in that direction, are exceptionally low fares, the Grand Trunk naturally adhered to the policy of cultivating a westward movement from Chicago and the west to New England resorts by special reduced fares that offset, to a great extent, the advantages as to distance enjoyed by the New York and New Jersey coast resorts.

That the policy of the Grand Trunk on the Eastern seaboard. But its advantage is a great international advantage on the business and trade of the United States is recognized and talked about as never before.

A Boston Authority

The latest evidence of this is contained in an interview with a gentleman from Boston, who is closely in touch with transportation matters in New England. He says that New Englanders are looking to the Grand Trunk as one of their chief means of development, recognizing that it is essential and protecting a traffic which the trunk lines would not cut off from themselves. The trunk lines decide their routes, he says, to develop the coast of New York and New Jersey, and the Grand Trunk took a mind in the early days to the interests of the other cities and ports of the east and comparatively little show.

This, says the Boston authority, is all changed now, and the port of Portland and the other cities of the coast look to the Grand Trunk as their chief hope. It is mainly the eastern cities from Portland to Chicago, and it is especially true of the cities of the coast in connection with its Central Vermont line reaching New London, Conn., after crossing through the heart of New England. It is not only greatly interested in the Eastern seaboard, but it is and allied lines in these matters is especially advantageous to New England, the citizens of these states know and they are now slow to express their gratitude for the protection of their ports interests and the development of their commercial and summer resort business.

HAD PLEASANT TIME

The members of Club Candine met at the home of Claude and Lauretta Braden, 15 Green street, Friday evening, and to say they had a good time is putting it mildly. It was a happy and a merry gathering. There was music and dance. Refreshments were served and everybody voted it a happy meeting.

AK OF C. BANQUET

The annual banquet of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, will be held on Wednesday evening, August 10, at the Hotel Marlborough. A most interesting spread will be served and the after-dinner speaking will include Prof. W. George Maudslai, chaplain of Lowell council, Rev. Dennis F. Murphy, St. Paul's, and Mr. Jas. P. McGowan, of the Boston school committee. A 2 o'clock refreshment program will be given, and the speakers will include the following:

As well as seeing that foreign rates as well as the passenger rates out of New England and Western Canada are on a par with rates in the United States, the board is better placed than any other agency to see that this is accomplished.

The Hope of New England

The direction of New Englanders to the "Frank Line" is that New York be developed at the expense of the other centers. The Grand Trunk is the only line to be strongly supported in the United States without the aid of the Canadian building transients, and it is felt that it also has a special advantage.

Five others were hanged at the entrance of the ministry of war and three at the Stamboul Palace building. Among these three is said to be Mourad, editor of the newspaper Khalid Ughra. The breast of each criminal had been pinned a large placard in Turkish that can be read at a considerable distance, setting forth the sentence of the court. Around the foot of the gibbets on the gallows were hanging garlands of fruit, flowers and ribbons, and proceeded as usual while the bodies were in full sight of the great crowds that make their way over the bridge between Stamboul and Galata.

KASSAM BARRACKS MARINES
PROTESTED AGAINST EXILE
CONSTANTINOPLE, May 3.—The marines in the Kassam barracks, which is situated behind the American embassy, mutinied Saturday. They refused to embark for distribution to the various ports.

The marines belonged to the old disciple corps, although the former sultan must have had at least a few hundred thousand pounds in the domestic exchequer.

Sultan Mehmed has kept himself somewhat in retirement since he replaced his brother on the throne. He drove out yesterday to his country house and was warmly cheered. Large crowds had gathered to watch his return to the palace and the sultan was given an ovation which surpassed anything of the kind since the death

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The American armored cruiser squadron, composed of the North Carolina and Montana, which left Guantanamo, Cuba, yesterday, is on orders from the navy department to hunt for Alexander the Great, Turkish Asia, to protect American interests there during the present disorders, were 1150 miles west of Gibraltar at 8 o'clock Saturday night according to a telegram received at the department today. The commander, Captain P. Willson, of the scout cruiser Chester, Vincent, C. V. I. A wireless dispatch from the North Carolina was received last night aboard the Chester, which, with the Birmingham, is coaling at St. Vincent en route to Monrovia, Liberia, to meet the American members of the United States Liberia expedition. It gave the position of the North Carolina and Montana as about 1090 miles north from St. Vincent. The vessels were travelling at the rate of 13½ knots an hour and at that speed would reach the United States of America, they should reach Gibraltar on Tuesday or Wednesday. They will receive orders to continue to eastern Mediterranean waters.

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 3.—A. H. Demerick, 36 years of age, an electrical engineer in charge of all power construction under the Salt river valley reclamation project, was drowned today in the sluicing tunnel 600 feet long which was cut through a solid mountain at one end of the Roosevelt storage reservoir. G. Harris, assistant to G. L. Smith in charge of the construction at Roosevelt, was swept through the tunnel with him but emerged in the river without serious injury.

The water in the tunnel is controlled by two sets of gates, three in each set, the sets being eleven feet apart and about 200 feet from the head of the tunnel at the bottom of a shaft 130 feet deep on the side of the mountain. A shaft contains the machinery which operates the gates. The men entered the tunnel from below. Some one raised the lower central gate before closing the upper gate and the water under a 90-foot head in the reservoir poured through 400 feet of rough, rugged tunnel to the river below.

ROCKLAND, Me., May 2.—The Carver block, a two and a half story frame structure containing four stores, three tenements and the hall of the lobster fishermen's union at Vinal Haven has been burned. The total loss was $10,000 with $4200 insurance. The fire caught in the rear of the millinery store of Mrs. E. M. Wester, presumably from an overheated stove.

BAND OF SINGERS FROM BOSTON.

The committee of the United Irish League in charge of the coming concert and lecture on Day 30 next gave notice of the following programme. This will be one of the greatest events ever combined by them. It is not a lecture nor is it a concert, but an eloquent and dramatic musical drama. It is a play, a play of the Middle Ages, and is by Mrs. E. M. Barton of Boston College, assisted by a group of talented singers from Boston specially selected for the purpose. Mrs. M. Barton is a well-known actress and a great and an able singer and will play the part of the heroine. The music will be sung by the Boston College and gives interpretations of Irish songs that are beautiful. The play is a story of the struggle of the Irish people and the struggle of the Irish people and the struggle of the Irish people.

MURDER

SPRINGFIELD, May 25.—George Slater, alias Otto Stein, who was extradited from New York last February, charged with the murder in Glasgow of Marion Gilchrist, was today placed on trial before Lord Cairnes and a jury in the historic hall court of Glasgow.

The killing of Miss Gilchrist, who was 32 years of age apparently was wanton and has aroused intense feeling.

Slater pleaded not guilty and the killing of witnesses was begun at once. As there are no opening statements by counsel at Spring trial, the proposed plea of "not guilty" was entered by the prisoner as a matter to be found in the reply of a witness who said she had heard rumors that Miss Gilchrist was a lover of stolen goods.

Another Man Arrested Pleaded Not Guilty—Illegal Business on Chapel Street—Several Drunks From Out of town in Court

Today was "visitors' day" in police court for the majority of offenders who appeared before Judge Hadley hailed from out of town.

John H. Russell, the first prisoner called, was sentenced to thirty days in jail. When it was learned that Russell belonged in Milford, N. H., Judge Hadley said that he didn't like to have men come to Lowell and get the benefit of the jail here at the expense of the people of this commonwealth. On condition that Russell would hike back to Milford as soon as he was discharged from jail Judge Hadley cut the sentence down to ten days.

More Visitors
Maurice Lynch wandered away from no-license Worcester and found the liquor so attractive in this city that he stayed here until his condition warranted his being taken to the lockup. It cost Maurice $2.

James Higgins claimed Hartford, Conn., as his place of abode when not traveling, and it cost him $2 for getting drunk.

Andrew McGovern, of North Billerica, came to town Saturday and imbibed too freely. It cost him $2.

John Roddy, who hails from Worcester and could not stand the "dry" conditions of that city, made his second appearance. He was not satisfied to leave Lowell after being arrested a few days ago but decided to sample some more of the booze. He was arrested Saturday night and fined $5.

Selling From Bottles

The stringent methods adopted by the board of police in regulating the sale of liquor at hotels on Sundays has resulted in the appearance of "hippers" on the streets, but Supt. Moffatt of the police department is determined that the illegal traffic will have to stop and besides general orders issued to the patrolman, the 15-year-old son of Lincoln E. Bartlett of 13 James street, who left home Saturday, April 17, and has not been seen since.

Thomas asserts that he has been to New York, but that he has not seen young Bartlett and knows nothing of his whereabouts. Thomas, however, says that he saw Bartlett two days before he disappeared.

Mrs. Bartlett asserts that when Lincoln left home Saturday he carried a dress-suit case and told her that he would spend the night with Chester Thomas, at 14 Elmwood street. The next day a man reported seeing a dead body of a tree floating down the river. When his son did not return Monday, Mr. Bartlett hired a launch and searched the river. He could find no trace of the missing boy, but he discovered the body of an older man in the river near Thompsonville.

The fact that Thomas had gone to New York led the police to think that Bartlett might have gone with him, but this the former denies.

Thomas explains as follows: "I went down to New York city Friday to see Mrs. Marie Tabbot of Brooklyn. I went down to visit and I didn't know a thing about Bartlett till I came back, when my mother told me about it. I saw Bartlett last Thursday morning before I went away."

Bartlett was going to work down to the skate factory and he had a lunch box under his arm. I said to him, 'Are you going to work now?' and he said, 'Yes.' That was about 7 o'clock in the morning, and I met him near Main and Elmwood streets."

Mrs. Bartlett says:

"Lincoln seldom was up in the morning so early. On the Thursday and Friday mornings before he went away he slept late and he didn't get up until between 10 and 11 o'clock. Thomas didn't see Lincoln any morning at 7 o'clock."

Mr. Bartlett says that his son never worked out a day in his life.

CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

CHICAGO, May 3.—In response to an official request, Morris & Co., the Chicago packers, will send their champion six horse team of Clydesdales to the Royal Agricultural show in London this July. The Morris team won the championship of the world at the International Live Stock exposition in Chicago last December and the six horses which made up the team have won 12 ribbons. Two of the horses are British born, two Canadian bred and two were raised in Illinois.

SURPRISE PARTY

A pleasant surprise party was given Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Annie Tyler, 511 Bridge street, the occasion being the anniversary of her birth.

There were many beautiful gifts in evidence of the esteem in which she is held by her friends, and a pleasant entertainment consisting largely of musical selections, was enjoyed during the evening. There were many out-of-town guests. Refreshments were served after which the gathering appropriately sang "Auld Lang Syne."

ARMED DEPUTIES ON GUARD

MATTEWAN, N. Y., May 3.—With a force of armed deputies on guard, work was resumed at the brick yard of W. H. Hammond, one of those against which a strike was declared by the brickmakers in this section last week. New men brought here from New York to take the places of the strikers manning the works. None of the other life brickyards have resumed operations. The starting of work at the Hammond yards was without the disturbing incident.

Asleep in Hallway

Robert Kemmer, who has worked as a chef at numerous places about town, made his appearance in court this morning. He got drunk Saturday night and Patrolman Braunitz found him asleep in the hallway of the Railroad bank building about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. He was sentenced to two months in jail.

From the Queen City

Margaret Griffin, who lives in Manchester, came to Lowell recently and Saturday, after spending the day with some companions, imbibed in too much liquor and was arrested. She was fined $2 in court this morning.

AT FESTIVE BOARD

Federal Ball Committee Had Jolly Evening

The members of the committee on arrangements of the Federal Shoe company's annual ball, recently held, sat down to a delightful banquet in the Richardson hotel, Saturday evening, 30 covers being laid.

Supt. Daniel W. Shanahan presided over the pleasant affair and Landlord Cushing put up one of his dearest menus.

In opening the postprandial exercises

Mr. Shanahan referred to the great success of the party and the harmonious relations existing between employer and employee at the Federal plant and intimated that annual outings and other similar affairs would be a feature of the social relations of the employees in the future. He then introduced in complimentary remarks Mr. Edward W. C. Homen, who leaves the Federal company to become superintendent of the new Merrimack shoe factory in Stockpile street, who made a neat speech. The remainder of the program was as follows:

Song, Frank J. Deignan; reading, George D. Poirer; French song, Geo. P. Couture; song, Henry Gordon; humorous remarks, Eugene Gratton; address, W. Coy Sterling; song, Thomas Fitzgerald; remarks, Arthur J. Paris; remarks, Patrick Heslin. The pleasant affair concluded with a vote of thanks to Postmaster Shanahan and the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne." Those present were Daniel W. Shanahan, Wm. H. MISSIONS FOR MEN

Another Opened Last Night at St. Peter's With a Double Service and Large Attendance

The mission for women at St. Peter's church closed yesterday afternoon after a most successful week, the missionaries being well pleased with results as shown by the large number of women who visited the confessional. The women's mission closed with a double service held in the main church and St. Paul's chapel. In the former the preacher was Rev. Fr. Bonifacio, C. P. Wally, and in St. Paul's chapel, Fr. Robert preached. The usual closing services were held concluding with the Papal Blessing.

The men's mission opened in the evening at 7:30 o'clock with a double service and the seating capacity was taxed at both. Rev. Fr. Joachim, C. P. preached in the main church and Fr. Roberts in St. Paul's chapel. The subject of the sermon being the salvation of the soul. At the mission masses at five o'clock and 8 o'clock and at 10 o'clock. Confessions will begin on Wednesday and will continue morning, afternoon and evening until the last man has been heard on Sunday night. The missionaries will be assisted at the confessional by the pastor and curates of St. Peter's. The men's mission will close next Sunday evening.

Going to the mission the annual May devotions at St. Peter's church will begin until next Monday after which date they will continue every evening except Saturday at 7:30 until the close of the month.

St. Michael's Mission

The men's mission at St. Michael's church, which was conducted during the week by three priests of the Order, came to a close last night with elaborate exercises at which 1700 men of the parish assisted. The closing exercises were of an inspiring nature and the scene was very impressive when 1500 men with lighted tapers renewed their baptismal vows and received the papal blessing. The mission was the most successful in the history of the parish and Rev. John J. Shaw, the beloved pastor, was gratified at the religious zeal shown by his flock in attending the masses at 5 o'clock and also the services in the evening.

The mission of two weeks, the first for the women, the second for men, was conducted by Rev. Eugene A. Dorgan, O. M. I., formerly pastor of the Immaculate Conception church in this city; Rev. John P. Reynolds, O. M. I., pastor of the Sacred Heart church in this city, and Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., a new recruit to the missionary field.

Long before the hour appointed for the service last night the church was filled with men, each carrying a candle. The Rosary was recited by Rev. Francis Mullin, after which Rev. Fr. Dorgan, O. M. I., gave a powerful sermon on "Perseverance." In opening his thanks the men in glowing terms for the manner in which they made the mission and impressed on their minds the necessity of following up the good work if they intended to live a holy life and secure eternal salvation. He urged them to join the army of God and quoting from the Scriptures said that God had said that those who were not with Him were against Him. He pictured the happiness and ease of mind of the man who was a member of the army of God and contrasted it with the life of the man who is dissolute, who fails to keep the commandments of God and the church.

At the conclusion of the sermon came the promulgation of the law. Rev. Fr. Shaw, pastor of the church, reading aloud the ten commandments of God. Father Dorgan briefly explained the different commandments to be used in warding off temptation. The renewal of the baptismal vows followed, during which time each man held a lighted candle aloft. The altar ablaze with light and 1700 lighted tapers held aloft by the congregation, constituted a spectacle long to be remembered.

The papal blessing was then given by Father Dorgan and the mission closed with benediction of the blessed sacrament. Rev. Fr. Shaw, celebrant.

During the evening there was congregational singing and the blessing of religious articles.

It is estimated that about 3700 people "made" the mission during the two weeks. The majority of that number were women.

Rev. Fr. Shaw is elated over the success of the mission. His words of advice to the men last night were expressive of his feelings, and his appeal to the congregation to continue the good work which they had started was received by an appreciative throng.

A five-day mission for the Collinsville section of St. Michael's parish was opened in the chapel in that village at 9:15 yesterday morning by Fr. Dorgan. In the afternoon at 7:30 he preached a mission sermon for the women and men. Rev. John P. Reynolds, O. M. I., addressed the mission. The mass at 10 o'clock on Thursday. There will be an early mass each day at 6 o'clock. The women and children will be dismissed at 7:30 each afternoon and the evening service for working people will be at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., pastor of the mission and at St. Michael's, will be in the mission last night at 7:30.

At Sacred Heart

The feast of St. Joseph was observed in all the Catholic churches through out the city yesterday appropriate services being conducted.

The children will receive first communion on Sunday, May 30, and are attending the preparatory classes in large numbers. This week the class exercise will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock and tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday at the same time. Owing to the inability of the archbishop to be present confirmation will not be given until after the summer vacation.

The rehearsals of "Queen Esther" are progressing rapidly and an excellent production is anticipated.

Anniversary of St. Joseph's

The 41st anniversary of the establishment of St. Joseph's parish was observed yesterday, the feast of the patron saint of St. Joseph's church in Lowell. The interior of the church was adorned with lilies, the emblem of St. Joseph, and greenery which was used lavishly. Rev. Fr. Barrette, O. M. I., celebrated solemn high mass, his assistants being two Oblate brothers from the novitiate at Tewksbury. Two companies of the Angel Guardian Cadets, 55 boys, in full uniform, formed a guard of honor at the sanctuary rail.

The sermon on the "Virtues of St. Joseph" was preached by Rev. Fr. Barrette, O. M. I., who in opening recalled the memory of Fr. Garin, which he said should always be uppermost in mind on an anniversary of the parish he founded. The work and aims of the venerable pioneer had been faithfully pursued by his successors, the reverend speaker said, and his ambition to make the parish one of the first and most flourishing in the diocese had been fully attained.

The Easter music was repeated under the direction of Frank Gourdeau, with Joseph A. Bernard at the organ. The harmonized mass of the second tone was sung by the large choir, to which the voices of thirty boys were joined with excellent effect. An "Ave Maria" was sung by Jean W. Faradis, and at the offertory a quartet composed of Gourdeau, Joseph Perron, Henri Wellbrenner and Arthur LeVelle, sang Hammer's "Hae Die."

Rev. Fr. Lamotte, O. M. I., officiated at vespers. The service was followed by the opening exercises of the month of Mary, at which Rev. Fr. Lamotte delivered the sermon. The choir sang under the direction of Miss Eugene Vincent. Miss Anna Bourassa sang "Ave Maria" by Cherubini.

AN APPEAL

WILL BE ENTERED BY JAMES HAZEN HYDE

PARIS, May 3.—M. Giffet, secretary to James Hazen Hyde of New York, stated today that there would be an appeal from the sentence imposed last Saturday by default, on Mr. Hyde of one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100 on the charge that while in his automobile he ran into a public taxicab last October and injured a passenger. He said further that the passenger in the taxicab was not scratched and that when the facts were fully before the court he would be reduced to a small fine.

Mr. Hyde, who was at one time vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is at present on an auto trip in the Riviera.

NIGHT EDITION

SUPREME COURT

Reversed Decision in the Commodities Clause Cases

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The supreme court reversed and remanded the decision of the United States circuit court in the commodities clause cases but did not give directions as to the character of decree which shall be entered. The only directions were to enforce and apply the statute as it is now construed.

Chief Justice Taft, in the opinion of the court, said that the decision of the circuit court was based on a misapprehension of the law. The commodities clause cases hold the law to be constitutional but it does not concede the contentions of the government as to its scope.

An especial exception was to the ownership of stock in a different corporation which, it was held, did not constitute such ownership as would prohibit transportation under the terms of the law. It was also held that ownership of the commodity applied only to the time of transportation, if before carrying it the railroad company has in good faith parted with the commodity and carry it.

The principal point of the decision was in relation to railroads holding the stock of subordinate companies and on that point the finding was favorable to the roads.

EFFECT ON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 3.—Confusion as to the effect of the supreme court decision in the Hepburn commodities clause case caused an extreme uncertainty on the stock exchange and brokers bought and sold stocks for a few minutes entirely on reports of the decision that reached the floor. The execution of orders contingent upon the court's decision was necessarily accomplished with much confusion and frequently brokers had to rebuy what they had already sold when the reports became conflicting.

Activity on the stock exchange then centered almost completely in Reading and thousands of shares of that stock were bought and sold.

Officials of the coal roads affected by the decision said this afternoon that until they had an opportunity to carefully consider the text of the court's decision they would make no comment on its provisions.

The following is a summary of the opinion in the commodities case.

1.—The claim of the government that the provision contained in the Hepburn act approved June 29, 1906, commonly called the commodities clause, prohibits a railway company from moving commodities in interstate commerce because the company has manufactured, mined or produced them or owned them in whole or in part or has had an interest direct or indirect in them wholly irrespective of the relation or connection of the carrier with the commodities at the time of transportation, is decided to be untenable. It is also declared that the decision of the commodities clause relating to interstate interest direct or indirect does not embrace an interest which a carrier may have in a producing corporation as a result of the ownership by the carrier of stock in such corporation irrespective of the amount of stock which the carrier may own in such corporation provided the corporation has been organized in good faith.

2.—Rejecting the construction placed by the government upon the commodities clause it is decided that that clause when all its provisions are harmoniously construed has solely for its object to prevent carriers engaged in interstate commerce from being associated in interest at the time of transportation with the commodities transported and therefore the commodities clause only prohibits railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce from transporting in such commerce commodities under the following circumstances and conditions:

(a)—When the commodity has been manufactured, mined or produced by a railroad company or under its authority and at the time of transportation the railroad has not in good faith before the act of transportation with its interest in such commodity.

(b)—When the railroad company owns the commodity to be transported in whole or in part.

(c) When the railroad company at the time of transportation has an interest, direct or indirect, in a legal sense in the commodity which last prohibition does not apply to commodities manufactured, mined, produced, owned, etc., by a corporation because a railroad company is a stockholder in such corporation. Such ownership of stock in a producing company by a railroad company does not cause it to be the owner of the stock to have a legal interest in the commodity manufactured, etc., by the producing corporation.

3.—As this construed the commodities clause is a regulation of commerce within the powers of congress to enact. The contentions elaborately argued for the railroad companies that the clause if applied to pre-existing rights will operate to take property of railroad companies and therefore violate the due process clause of the fifth amendment, were all based upon the assumption that the clause prohibited and restricted in accordance with the construction which the government gave that clause and for the purpose of enforcing which prohibitions these suits were brought.

As the construction which the government placed on the act and seeks to enforce is held to be unsound and as none of the contentions relied upon are applicable to the act as now construed under such construction the act merely enforces a regulation of commerce by which carriers are compelled to disassociate themselves from the products which they carry and does not prohibit where the carrier is not associated with the commodity carried it follows that the contentions on the subject of the fifth amendment are without merit.

4.—The exemption as to timber, etc., contained in the clause is not repugnant to the constitution.

5.—The provision as to penalties is separable from the other provisions of the act. As no recovery of penalties was prayed, no issue concerning them is here presented. It will be time enough to consider whether the right to recover penalties exists when an attempt to collect penalties is made.

6.—As the construction now given the act differs so widely from the construction which the government gave to the act and which it was the purpose of these suits to enforce, it is held that it is not necessary in reversing and remanding the direct character of decrees which shall be entered but simply to reverse and remand the case with instructions to enforce and apply the statute as it is now construed.

7.—As the Delaware & Hudson Co. is engaged as a common carrier by rail in the transportation of coal in the commerce of interstate commerce it is a railroad company within the purview of the commodities clause and is subject to the provisions of that clause as they are now construed.

ONE MAN KILLED

Engine and Four Cars of Train Were Derailed

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 3.—As the noon train from Boston over the eastern division of the B. & M. was about to slow down for the regular stop, a switching engine backed into it and went half way through the baggage car, derailing the engine and four cars of the regular train, while the switcher was hurled into the freight yard where the engineer was killed and the fireman badly injured. Three other employees and three passengers were also cut and bruised.

The dead man was Richard E. Pray of Portsmouth.

The injured were: Fireman Edward Herndon of Portsmouth; Engineer Leonard Newhall of Lynn; Fireman Albert Springer of Portsmouth; Express Messenger William Brown of Lawrence.

Passengers: George E. Miller, Melrose; Patrick Brown, Boston; James Russell, Boston.

How the switcher happened to be near the main track was still a matter of investigation by the officials at 3 p. m. It was ascertained, however, that the switcher was in charge of new men and was about to cross the main track to the yard on the other side. The passenger train from Boston was on time and the engineer was shutting off steam for the stop here when he saw the switcher was backing onto his train. The engine of the passenger train went by all right, but the tender of the switcher struck the baggage car and ploughed into it, the blow forcing all four cars and the engine of the passenger train off the rails. Then came the usual bumping along the sleepers, the train stopping with the tender still embedded in the baggage car. The main part of the switcher had been hurled into the yard and there the body of Young Pray was found.

Fireman Herndon of the switcher had a narrow escape, while Express Messenger Brown was thrown by trucks falling on him. The other injured persons were nearly all badly cut by flying glass.

It took a couple of hours to clear the track.

Local physicians bound up the cuts and no one was sent to the hospital.

DOWN BUT HOPEFUL

Lowell's Showing During Season's First Week

Eight of the Sixteen Players Have Hit the Ball, Boyle Leading the Bunch—The Batting and Fielding Averages to Date

The end of the first week of the New England baseball season finds Haverhill in the lead with the Walhams of New Bedford in second place. Fall River and Brockton are tied for third honors, while Lynn is fifth and Lawrence is in sixth position. Jesse Burke's Worcester team and Al White's Lowell Tigers are fighting it out for the lowest rung on the ladder.

While Lowell started bad, winning but one out of the five games played so far this season, there is plenty of chance to get the team into shape to do better for the first place as the season progresses. A little remodeling out of some of the players and the substitution of stronger timber will place the Lowell team in the running for the pennant.

Lowell was scheduled to open the season at New Bedford a week ago Friday, but owing to the weather conditions the game was called off. The following day, Saturday, the Tigers and Walhams met and the Lowellists started the season by suffering defeat by a score of 8 to 2. The batting of the members of the Lowell team on that day was miserable, the local aggregation being able to connect with but four hits off Walsh's delivery.

Monday and Tuesday the Lowellists met Fall River in the latter city and lost both games by close scores, the Monday game being lost by a score of 4 to 2, while on Tuesday it took the Fall River aggregation 13 innings to win by a score of 1 to 2.

Wednesday the season was opened at Washington park in this city, New Bedford being Lowell's opponent. New Bedford won by a score of 11 to 2, the Tigers securing but four hits off Moore. On Thursday, however, the Lowellists broke the tie by defeating New Bedford to the tune of 2 to 0. Up to this game the batting by the Lowell players, with the exception of that of Boyle and Cox, was very much on the ragged order. In Thursday's game Cox and Howard demonstrated the fact that their batting eyes were setting in the shape of that they were setting ready for batting carnivals during the season.

Friday and Saturday's games had to be postponed owing to the inclement weather.

While, as above stated, the batting of the Lowell players during the week was very poor, Boyle, Pickett and Cox showed up very bright with 13 hits at bat for four hits, giving him an average of .508. Cox with 18 times at bat had five base hits with a total of eight, he having secured out a two-bagger and a three-bagger.

Of the sixteen players tried out during the week, eight batted for some thing, while the other eight have not yet found their names on the map.

Six of the team are tied for first position in fielding, all six having perfect scores. Boyle, out of 31 chances, has 31 chances, two errors, and a bean-bump, with 24 chances, had one error.

The following is the standing of the players, both at bat and in the field, also how they stand in base running:

Yesterday forenoon Mr. Gilman waited on City Marshal Wheeler with the news that the child was sick and apparently threatened with pneumonia. The marshal referred him to County Physician Hammond. The latter investigated and found that the child had trouble on the lungs and also a broken arm, but whether a recent break, he did not determine. He sent the child to the Nashua hospital in charge of a nurse and ordered that it have good care. He also got William S. Norwell to go to his store and get clothing for the child. The marshal Wheeler asked the Lowell police to investigate at that end, but he has not heard from them. Mr. Gilman has a wife and one or two children.

The Lowell police investigated the case and learned that the child belonged to a man who is employed by a local undertaker, but the name of the man has not been divulged owing to the fact that the child's mother is on her death bed and it is felt that if the name were made public it might hasten her death.

According to the facts in the case learned by the local police the man had the child cared for in this city for the past year, and early yesterday morning took it to Mr. Gilman's house and made arrangements for its care, promising to return next Saturday night to see how the child was getting along.

When he learned yesterday that the child was ill he immediately went to Nashua. The police claim that the father had no intention of deserting the child, his only desire being to secure a good home for it.

LOWELL YOUTH

Figured in a Sensation at Nashua, N. H.

About 1245 o'clock yesterday morning a team with three men drove up to the house of George Gilman, 15 Martin street, and calling him to the door placed in his hands a male infant aged about a year, says the Nashua correspondent of the Manchester Union. The baby was quite destitute as to clothing, but had with him a nursing bottle. One of the men in the wagon, whom Mr. Gilman thinks he recognized as a man employed by a firm of Lowell undertakers and who goes by the nickname "Nig" told Mr. Gilman, he says, to keep the child until he heard from him again. They then drove away. The team, Mr. Gilman, who was formerly a hatter at Gray's stable, thinks belongs to the Lowell undertakers. Mr. Gilman communicated with the police and Deputy Marshal Campbell investigated. He learned that a team answering the description was seen at the Aetna depot going Lowellward. Deputy Campbell secured a fast horse and drove smartly as far as Tyngsboro bridge without overtaking the quarry.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Tommy Duffy, umpire and referee, formerly of Lowell, but now located in Chelsea, came to Lowell Saturday to umpire the Lowell-Lawrence game and was rebuffed by the rain of an opportunity to show his old friends his ability as a decision maker. Tommy has been appointed a substitute umpire by the New England league and his many Lowell friends would like to see him appointed a regular. Tommy is kept busy—umpiring, college, and semi-professional games for there is no question as to his ability.

Dan Barry, the printer ball player who played first base for the St. Patrick's Sanitary team last season, is with the Ulster team in the New York state league. While traveling with the Boston Post team he attracted the attention of Elberfeld, who got him on with the New York Highlanders. When Chicago came back, however, there was no room for him on the big team and he was shifted to Ulster where he is making good.

CHARRED BODIES

Of Man and His Niece Found

ROCKLAND, Mass., May 3.—The charred bodies of Benjamin Lee and his niece, Edith Winslow, were found yesterday in the ashes of the little cottage which they occupied in Hanover. As much mystery attaches to the cause of the fire, which occurred yesterday morning while the occupants of the house were presumably sleeping, the medical examiner, Dr. Osmond, asked the state police to investigate.

Both the victims were colored. The man was 65 years old and his niece 31. They were the only persons in the house when the fire broke out, as far as is known.

Occupants of a neighboring cottage which took fire from the Lee house were forced to make a hasty exit to save their lives. Both the cottages were owned by Mrs. Richard Winslow of Hanover. The total property loss is less than $2000.

LOCK CANAL

IS FAVORED BY THE CONGRESSIONAL PARTY

NEW YORK, May 3.—Further endorsement of the lock type of canal and assurance of the stability of the Gatun dam were voted here yesterday by members of the congressional party which returned on the steamship Panama after an unofficial inspection of the canal zone. Most of the representatives expressed themselves as delighted with their experiences, and a number were outspoken in their praise of the work being accomplished on the canal.

Representative Michael E. Conroy of New York said:

"Many of us left New York with the idea that the sea level system of canal construction should have been adopted in preference to the lock system. But after personally inspecting the great work and familiarizing ourselves with the conditions on the isthmus all of us, I feel safe to say, return convinced that the lock system is the better of the two and should be carried through to completion."

FISHERY BILL

DRAFT OF THE AGREEMENT MADE PUBLIC

OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—The draft of the uniform fishery regulations governing the boundary waters between Canada and the United States under the terms of the treaty passed last spring, as prepared during the last six months by two commissioners, Prof. E. E. Prince, Dominion fishery commissioner, and President David Starr Jordan, representing the United States, has been received in Ottawa from Palermo, Calif., where the commissioners have just completed their work. The regulations are being reviewed by the United States and Canadian fishermen of the regulations contained in the Canadian side in the treaty waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific. These waters include the arrangement of the waters at the mouth of the St. Croix river to the St. John river, where it forms the boundary between Maine and New Brunswick, Lake Champlain, and the Great Lakes from Cornwall westward, and the waters of Juan De Fuca Strait and Puget sound.

Under the regulations as now agreed upon the United States government will employ a federal protection staff with headquarters at Washington, which will correspond to their Canadian fisheries protection service with headquarters at Ottawa. These two services will co-operate in enforcing the uniform regulations in all the waters covered by the treaty. There will be a common size of the limit of lobsters in Maine and New Brunswick and minimum legal sizes or weights for white fish, lake trout, pickerel, etc., in the Great Lakes and a specified mesh and amount of net authorized. In Lake Erie there will be a neutral zone one mile wide on which no fishing will be permitted.

As a result of the new regulations agreed upon, the preservation and continued prosperity of the international fisheries is assured. The details of the regulations will be announced at an early date as the period set for their coming into force ends on June 30 next.

HER PHYSICIAN ADVISED

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbus, Ohio.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during a change of life. My doctor told me it was good, and since taking it I feel so much better that I can do my work again. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fine remedy for all woman's troubles, and I never forget to tell my friends what it has done for me."

Mrs. E. HANSON, 804 East Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

Another Woman Helped.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GAS WAS FATAL

Mrs. Josephine Lambert
Died Saturday Night

Mrs. Josephine Lambert, who was found unconscious in her room at 450 Merrimack street, Thursday night, with the gas turned on, died Saturday night at St. John's hospital, shortly before midnight.

Since the discovery of her sad plight, a letter was found in her room addressed to her aged grandfather, James McElish, aged 85 years, of Roberval, Que., in which she depicted her despondency and the fact that she had been abandoned by her parents in infancy. The letter intimated that she was tired of living.

Mrs. Lambert was 35 years of age, and a handsome woman. She has a husband, Louis Lambert, from whom she has been separated three or four years, and who now resides in Quebec. The body was removed to Undertaker Amédée Archambault's establishment.

"Doctor's Daughter"

SAYS: "Very few people appear to appreciate or understand the various symptoms caused by diseases of the organs of digestion. Almost always these symptoms are thought to indicate diseases of the heart, lungs, kidneys and other organs of the body, for the simple reason, that when the organs of digestion become diseased, the other organs of the body often become affected sympathetically, causing many erroneous conclusions as to the origin and nature of the disease."

"The stomach and organs of digestion are to the other organs of the human body, what the roots are to the tree or plant, they supply the blood which keeps the body or plant alive. When the stomach and organs of digestion are strong and healthy and our food is well digested it will make rich, pure blood. Our blood is not the same all the time as you may think, but is constantly changing, and its quality and quantity will always depend upon the food we eat and digest."

"When our blood is rich and pure it will prevent all diseases and heal all injuries. Young children having vigorous stomachs and good blood making powers, their blood is rich and rapidly heals and restores their bodies after disease or injuries."

"Indigestion often causes the skin and complexion to become rusty and dingy, sallow, faded and spotted, owing to the retention of various impurities in the blood, which ought to be cast off and discharged from the system by the action of the liver and digestive canal. No pathological fact is better established than that neuralgia, rheumatism and gout in their various forms and phases, are produced by the accumulation of uric acid in the blood and that they are the result of imperfect digestion of our food."

A noted physician has said:

"In nearly all cases of fatal chronic diseases of the heart, lungs, brain, kidneys, rheumatism, scrofula, etc., when the mucous membrane lining the stomach and intestinal canal is carefully examined, numerous traces of disease will be discovered. Sometimes it will be congested, red and inflamed, and in many cases of long standing disease, thickened and ulcerated, thus proving conclusively that fatal complications or diseases of other organs were originally caused by chronic inflammation, congestion, thickening or ulceration of the mucous membrane lining the intestinal canal."

"For the relief and cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and allied troubles Stomach-Rite is the best medicine and has fully demonstrated its true worth in thousands of cases as the grateful users have testified. My father, Dr. John Wilbur, believed you should take as little medicine as possible, but when you did need medicine to take only the best. If you would be healthy, eat good, nourishing food and be able to properly digest it. Stomach-Rite assists the stomach and digestive organs, helps nature to do the work and brings a new life to the intestinal tract and cleanses the system of all impurities. If your food digests and your liver is active what health you enjoy—no indigestion—no constipation—a bright, clear complexion, active brain, a good appetite and able to enjoy your food, truly life is then worth living—Stomach-Rite has done these things for many New England people, won't you let it do the same for you?"

Very truly yours,
DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

AUTO CARNIVAL

Discussed by Trades & Labor Council

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held yesterday afternoon, and considerable business was transacted during the meeting.

Much interest was displayed during the discussion of the proposed automobile carnival to be held in the fall under the auspices of the Lowell Automobile club. Many locals are yet to be heard from regarding the proposition for the big parade. The reports of the various crafts show that conditions are very good, especially in the building industry. Reports of interviews with representatives to the general court in interest of the eight hour bill were very interesting, and the council is watching closely the action of members of the senate on this bill.

REV. J. M. CRAIG

HELD A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION SATURDAY

The home of Rev. J. M. Craig in Belmont street was the scene, Saturday evening, of a very pleasant gathering of about one hundred members of the First Presbyterian church. It came to pass that Mr. Craig had another birthday, and that was the occasion of the happy affair. Pretty floral offerings were sent by different societies of the church, and all the way from Kansas came beautiful bouquets, sent by Clarence and Edna Craig, a son and daughter of the minister. Songs and readings were indulged in, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the ladies of the church, and the happy meeting closed by the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

DRACUT

The lid is down in Dracut, the "dry" year having been ushered in Saturday. Those who were instrumental in changing the town from the "wet" into the no-license column state that they will make it their business to see that the law is enforced to the letter and that those who attempt to do an illegal business within the confines of the town will be severely dealt with.

Dracut had three saloons during the year ending May 1, one of which was located in the Navy Yard and the other two in the vicinity of Lakeview. The saloon in the Navy Yard was conducted by Martin Farrell. The Lakeside Hotel, formerly known as Mercier's hotel, situated near the entrance to Willow Dale was closed up several months ago. Adelard Nolan, the licensee, signing an affidavit that he would discontinue the sale of liquor in Dracut after he had been raided several times. The Lakeview hotel, located just beyond Lakeview, closed Friday night and it is understood that the building will be transformed into a club house for the Arundel Boating and Canoeing association, which is made up of Lowell men.

The Parker Avenue School Alumni association held a well attended and interesting meeting Saturday afternoon and a list of routine business was transacted.

The association considered plans for a social program to be carried out at its next regular meeting on June 5.

LOWELL MEN

ATTENDED CONVENTION HELD IN PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 3.—The second annual convention of the National Industrial union of 7,500,000 Workers of the World was brought to a close in this city last night. Every textile center in the east was represented, delegates being present from this city, Philadelphia, Ellentown, Paterson, West Hoboken, Newark, New Bedford, Lowell, Lawrence, Woonsocket and Fall River. The report of the national secretary, Francis Miller, showed the membership to be six thousand at present. Officers for the ensuing year were nominated and will be chosen by referendum vote by the various locals. The next convention will be held at Philadelphia May 1, 1910.

BILLERICA

A well attended and successful May dance and entertainment was held Saturday night at the town hall under the auspices of the ways and means committee of the Unitarian church. Despite the wet weather the members and their friends turned out in large numbers and were well repaid for attending.

One of the features of the affair was the English May pole dance in which 12 children participated. Mrs. Joseph F. Talbot and Mrs. John A. Richardson had charge of the children, who were costumed and went through the different evolutions in a manner that was pleasing to the eye. Another pretty number on the program was the solo dance by Miss Doris Nichols of Whitrop. For an encore she gave a vocal selection which was highly appreciated. The accompanist of the evening was Miss Besse Hadley of Lowell.

After the entertainment general

dancing was enjoyed to the music of Hibbard's orchestra. There was a number of out-of-town people present. A good sized delegation coming from Lowell. During the intermission, refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The hall was attractively decorated in honor of the occasion and presented a very pretty appearance. The ways and means committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following ladies: Mrs. Fred H. Parker, chairman; Mrs. John H. Kohlrausch, Mrs. John A. Richardson, Mrs. Joseph F. Talbot, Mrs. Charles H. Kohlrausch, Mrs. Elmer D. Cole and Mrs. Fred A. Casey.

At the vesper service at St. Andrew's church last night the rosary was recited and there was singing by the regular church choir assisted by a chorus of about 100 boys and girls. The children have been rehearsing the music for the occasion several weeks under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Fr. Foley, O. M. I.

Falling Hair, Itching Scalp, Dandruff

Doctor Lassar, the famous German professor, says the first step toward stopping the falling of hair, itching scalp and dandruff is to keep the scalp clean by washing. This should be done daily in the beginning, and as the scalp assumes a more normal condition, the head can be washed less frequently. In any event, the head and hair should be cleansed at least twice a week with a reliable wash. It is just as necessary to keep the face and hands clean as to keep the scalp clean. The old idea that a shampoo once a month or two was sufficient is positively wrong. There is no remedy that will make hair grow after the roots are dead. There is no remedy for the hair of any special value unless it cleanses and restores the scalp to a healthy, soft, smooth, natural condition. So far as we know, Birt's Head Wash is the only thing of the kind that you can use and KNOW what you are using. It is not an ordinary shampoo, and it is not sold as a shampoo. It is a wash for the head and hair, made as good as such a thing can be made—and made so good that the formula is printed on the package as follows: Refined Soap—Used, of course, for its general cleansing properties. Glycerin—Used for its softening, soothing, emollient virtues. Glycerin is one of the most valuable applications in skin troubles. Salicylic Acid—An antiseptic which prevents the development of bacteria, putrefaction and disagreeable odors. White of Eggs—Taken from fresh eggs. It is used to assist in forming an emulsion during the process of lathering to remove the scaly matter from the scalp. Coconut Oil—Used because it is so readily absorbed by the skin. There is just enough to prevent the scalp from becoming too dry and to give the hair a delicate, natural lustre without leaving a greasy appearance. There is no secret about Birt's Head Wash, except, of course, the exact method of compounding, and the peculiar care taken in the making. Price 50c. a jar, 25

"Stein-Bloch Clothes Capture London"

Under this heading is reproduced in the New York and Boston newspapers, a letter to the Stein-Bloch Co. from Selfridge & Co., Ltd., London, England, advising of the Immense success made by Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes at the big London store. We quote the advertisement in part:

Selfridge & Co., Ltd., the American Merchants, Score a Hit in London With the Best American Made Clothes

'Selfridge & Company Ltd., are owners of the largest and most progressive department store in London.

"After carefully comparing the best European with the best American products, they concluded that Stein-Bloch produce the best men's clothes in the world and that discriminating Englishmen would buy them in preference to any other.

"It was a daring thing to undertake. No one had ever tried it—and in England that's the best reason why no one ever should.

'But Selfridge is an American. He used to be at the head of the great retail house of Marshall Field & Company, Chicago.

"His buyers made a tour of investigation among the principal makers of the United States. They knew the characteristics of the British public.

"The Englishman is critical. Superficial smartness doesn't satisfy him. He digs beneath the surface and must be convinced as to material and workmanship. He insists on quality and has a shrewd eye for detail. He is a great stickler for correct style but will have nothing freakish.

"Having all these things in mind, Selfridge & Company, Ltd., studied the productions of various American manufacturers with great care.

"That they chose Stein-Bloch clothes with which to capture the English market, although not a surprise, was a very gratifying tribute to the clothes which for fifty-four years have been recognized as the highest grade made."

The D. S. O'Brien Co., Offere the Same Clothes to Lowell Men at the Smart Clothes Shop and Has Also Scored a Hit

At the same time that Selfridge opened his mammoth store in London, the D. S. O'Brien Co. began its business, in a modest way, at the Smart Clothes Shop.

The two concerns, so dissimilar in size and strength, had similar business principles—Honest Merchandise, Fair prices and Efficient, Liberal Service to customers.

For the same reason that the London merchant selected Stein-Bloch clothes, they were made the leading clothes feature of the Smart Clothes Shop—because they're the best ready-to-wear in the world.

That's our judgment, after having acquired a fair knowledge of most of the good makes—and evidently it's the judgment of Selfridge & Co.

Stein-Bloch clothes have astonished the Londoners. In America, where 8 men out of 10 wear ready-to-wear clothes, Stein-Bloch stands for clothes supremacy.

At the Smart Clothes Shop, Stein-Bloch clothes are carried in cabinets, wrinkleless, hung up in easy view where they can be seen and handled by the customer.

If you have a favorite make, we'd appreciate the privilege of showing you these Stein-Bloch smart clothes for comparison—they're worth seeing. Stein-Bloch Suits and Overcoats $20.00 to $35.00.

TO PREVENT TYING UP NECESSARIES OF LIFE.

One sure way to prevent a corner in wheat is to remove the tariff on wheat so that if any attempt be made to corner the market and raise the price unnecessarily, there will soon come relief from abroad. That is one remedy that should be provided and would be provided if congress had any regard for the safety of the people. In the absence of such a protection there should be a law to make it a criminal offense to corner the market so as to tie up any of the necessities of life.

THE LAW OF TURKISH SUCCESSION.

After all, the revolution in Turkey was effected with comparatively little bloodshed. The principal outrages were those committed against the Christians in Armenia resulting from Moslem fanaticism.

It may not be generally known that the Turkish law of monarchical succession provides that the successor to the throne shall be the oldest living descendant of Osman, the founder of the imperial house in the thirteenth century. The prevailing rule in European monarchies is, that the eldest son of the reigning monarch shall be his successor. There are six lives, however, between the son of the late sultan and the supreme office. This law has the effect of preventing a young man from ascending the throne unless by slaughter or pestilence all the other heirs are wiped out.

NEWSPAPERS PUBLISHED AT SEA.

Those who wish to be completely cut off from news of the world while on a sea voyage will have to sail on a vessel that is not equipped with the Marconi wireless system. On twenty-seven trans-Atlantic liners a newspaper known as the Atlantic Daily News is published, giving a synopsis of the news of the day, the stock quotations, sporting and other events.

From its long distance stations at South Wellfleet, Cape Cod, Clifden, Ireland and Paldhu on the English coast, the Marconi company is able to keep in communication at all times with the trans-Atlantic ships and can thus furnish fresh news as well as can the telegraph companies on land. This is one of the marvels of the age at which people have ceased to wonder.

SCANDALOUS RESULT OF EXCESSIVE PROTECTION.

The limit of protection fraud has been reached in the duty on foreign made watches. Many of the protected articles manufactured in this country are sold much cheaper abroad than at home. That is the case with steel rails and watches. So great is the margin on watches that many dealers in this country have been buying American made movements in Europe and importing them back here, paying the tariff and then selling them under the American tariff price. If ever there was a disgraceful illustration of the outrage of excessive protection, it is this. So flagrant is the abuse that it may well be termed the backing up of the republican protective sewer.

The American watch trust is now insisting upon a duty of 175 per cent. on foreign made watches and insists also upon a duty against its own products coming back into the American market to be sold in competition lower than trust prices. There is a case of real trust gall!

Is it any wonder we have anarchists when any government will sanction such systematic robbery of the people?

One would imagine that these monopolies would be unwilling to admit that they are selling their products so much lower in foreign countries than at home, but here they come forward and openly seek protection in a policy of discrimination against the American people. Will they get it?

It seems that Senator Aldrich is ready to grant the trusts and monopolies anything they want, provided their aim be to swindle the general public. Aldrich is decidedly the most unscrupulous tariff robber that has yet appeared. He may be of the opinion that his course may commend him to the forces of predatory wealth as a candidate for president.

MOTH CRUSADE INJURES FRUIT PRODUCTION.

Why is it that our suburban farmers raise so little fruit, such as apples, pears, raspberries and strawberries? The decrease in the quantity of apples is especially noticeable. In the good old New England days the apple crop was heavy and the quality was good. Nowadays the output is small and the quality much reduced. Yet the soil and the climate are just as good as ever. Two causes may be assigned for the change. One is neglect of the apple trees as a crop. They are left to grow wild and little attention is given them. Another cause and perhaps the more serious is, that such trees are sprayed with arsenical solutions to kill the moth pests. These after a while kill the trees. Farmers and foresters are beginning to believe that all this money expended for the destruction of the moth pests is largely wasted. It does not destroy the moths for they are as numerous as ever; but it does destroy the trees.

In a few seasons after such spraying the roots of the trees begin to rot out, the trunks of the trees show chocolate colored spots, the bark dries up and the leaves fall early. The trees are actually poisoned, and in this way a vast damage is done to orchards and shade trees, while very little injury comes to the moths. Besides it the country towns breed a fresh crop of moths every year to replenish the cities, or what use is it for the cities to put out so much money for spraying with arsenical and cresosotic solutions?

If left to themselves the trees would fight their own battle better by their own natural resources than when sprayed by poisonous solutions that sink into the sap and bring on fatal decay.

But apart from these considerations, it seems there is less effort than formerly to grow apples, pears and other small fruits which were formerly produced in New England in great abundance. The farmers are partial to vegetables that may be less perishable, but considering the winter prices of apples it would seem that there is a great opportunity for farmers to make money from apple orchards.

Chicago girls are fairly unanimous in declaring that the husband should be the boss. They want him to rule, to stand at the head of the house, to be a "masterful man."

The Chicago girls are typical of femininity. They may not have known that they were wearing a ruling passion, but they were. There are exceptions, of course, but generally the very exceptions are born of the workings of the rule. It is only when the man fails that the woman consents to stand at the head of the house.

This is a race-old condition and when the ghastly thing happens to a man to whom life is hanging back to the cliff-dwelling age, or earlier, when the physical prowess of the man made the store but secure. When the Vikings bore off the yellow-haired maiden of the north the strong man triumphed and the girl exalted in the strength of her captor.

Like other primordial passions this has no longer a place in our civilization. Today the two sexes stand fairly on a basis of equality. The superior physical power of the man is rarely needed, as the cleverness and resource of the woman are quite as effective as his strength. There should not be no boss, for the family is co-operative. —Baltimore Star.

Interest in the cultivation of apples has been stimulated in parts of Pennsylvania and many apple orchards are being planted. To the districts of the Keystone state large shipments of apples have been made from western irrigated regions. The apples while of poor flavor as compared with the Northern Spies, the Kings and the Baldwins grown in Pennsylvania. The western apples command "fabulous prices."

Pennsylvania orchardists believe they can equal the western apples in size and surpass them in flavor. Probably they can. Delaware apple growers have demonstrated that they can equal, if not surpass, the western product. Our soil gives a peculiarly fine flavor to all fruit, and apples as a general rule. It is not without an increasing acreage in Delaware will be planted in apples especially since it is commonly admitted that peaches have almost "played out." About the only objection we hear to apple growing is that it takes such a long time for the trees to begin bearing. —Wilmington Evening Journal.

HER COMMANDMENTS

Remember that I am thy wife, whom thou shalt cherish all thy life.

Thou shalt not stay out late at night when lodges, friends or clubs bid thee.

Thou shalt not smoke indoors or out, or chew tobacco round about.

Thou shalt my mother strive to please, and with us let her live in ease.

Thou shalt when baby starts to weep, get up and soothe it with a lullaby.

Thou shalt stay in with baby so your wife can go and see a show.

Thou shalt not at other girls make eyes, but let me flirt without disguise.

Thou shalt stay home when not at the shop, and let your wife attend a "hop."

Remember that these are my wishes.

"Come John, help me wash the dishes."

—Amen.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

For years Mr. Faversham has owned the right to perform Stephen Phillips' tragedy, "Herod," in America, and at last he purposes to exercise it. Next autumn in New York he will mount the play pictorially, take Herod for his own part, and then carry the piece to other cities. Originally, Mr. Tree mounted "Herod" in London in 1900, played the king himself, and won considerable public favor for the play. It remains still the most rhetorically magnificent and the most dramatically suggestive of all Mr. Phillips' pieces. There is no need, moreover, says the Boston Transcript, for suspicious clerics to take alarm over the imminence of another Herod on the stage. The Herod of Mr. Phillips' tragedy is not the Herod who beheaded the Baptist, but the earlier Herod, who was king of the Jews who loved Mariamne, and who went mad, with which tale the play is concerned. Miss Opp will act the woman.

Advises received at Honolulu from Sydney, Australia, state that Jack London, the author, who started on a tour of the South Sea Islands, many months ago, in the sloop Shark, has gone to South America, having sold the boat at that port.

Plans are maturing for the establishment of a medical school in China. The promoters are Harvard men, who intend to go to China at the expiration of their hospital appointments, having definite invitations from his excellency the viceroy from the Kiang Soo province. An endowment fund will be raised to be held by a board of trustees in this country, incorporated to direct the financial affairs of the institution. President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard has consented to serve as chairman of this board, and his associate trustees will be Dr. H. P. Walcott, '88; Dr. A. T. Cabot, '72; Dr. W. T. Councilman, '99; Dr. W. B. Cannon, '96; Dean H. A. Christian of the medical school and Prof. E. C. Moore.

The movement has the indorsement of the faculty of the Harvard medical school. These are the men who intend to go: J. P. Leake, '04, M. D.; W. S. Whittemore, '04, M. D.; W. H. Hiltner, M. D.; I. Hartshorn, M. D.; C. C. Haskell, M. D.; M. B. Edwards, M. D.; A. L. Patch, A. M. Dunlap, C. P. Gaunt and C. A. Hedblom. One of them may be sent to China about six months in advance to select a suitable site for the school.

To give public and official recognition to Henry Phillips of Pittsburg, millionaire ironmaster and founder of the Phillips Institute for Tuberculosis, for his benefaction, representative Philadelphians will entertain him at a banquet at the Bellevue-Stratford on May 22. The occasion being made further notable by the formal presentation to the philanthropist of the gold medal awarded him recently by the international conference on tuberculosis.

Here are the provisional arrangements for the plays and tours of some familiar players next season: Maude Adams will travel through the country in Barrie's comedy, "What Every Woman Knows"; John Drew may appear in a new play by W. Somerset Maugham, probably "Smilin'"; Ethel Barrymore will have a new play, yet unannounced; William Collier will act in a new play upon which he is now collaborating with George Robert; William H. Crane will continue in George Ade's "Father and the Boys"; Hattie Williams will appear first in New York and later over the country in the "straight" comedy, "The Marriage of a Star"; Gus Skimer will stage a new play, probably from Booth Tarkington; Francis X. Williams will tour in his own play, "The Bachelor's Party."

For some months, about recently, Max Rogers, who had made some money and inventiveness from his late Boston home, has gone down the country in the last piece, "The Bachelor's Party," in "Panama." He has proved so popular that he is held to the "brotherhood" public, and next season he will have a new piece of his own.

A debt remains that every trans-Atlantic traveler still pays to the memory of Mr. Corried. Aside from his liberal and operative ventures, he was for years connected with the company which rented chairs on ocean steamships. He first got the idea, it is said, in his early trips with German tourists folk here.

Count Kogoro Takahira, Japanese imperial ambassador to the United States, will be in Cambridge on May

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The initiation staff of Washington lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., of Lawrence, will be the guests of Merrimack Valley lodge at Grafton hall, Friday evening, May 7. There will be 12 candidates for initiation and after the business session a social will be held.

The bartenders union held a most enthusiastic meeting yesterday. The session was held for the purpose of electing a successor to James T. Doyle, recently resigned as president. Patrick M. Gardner was the unanimous choice for the office. Resolutions of regret were read on the resignation of former President Doyle and after the business session a social hour was enjoyed. There was a number of guests present.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Wm. Thorp, Well Known Cricketer

BOSTON, May 2.—William T. Thorp's sudden death on Saturday was regarded by cricketers as a distinct loss to the game, aside from sorrow at the passing away of a rarely genial and engaging character. He was one of the most expert batters in the country and his fame was such that some of the better enthusiasts in the game traveled far to see him play. He was past master in the game of cricket, having the rare acquisition of perfect "batting" play. Thorp combined both so that with the least apparent effort, he could send the ball faster and farther than many who had the heavy bat in American cricket. It was the strict university form, to be acquired only by the very best of training. Mr. Thorp was over 5 feet in height and although of slight build was lithe and muscular. In 1904 he won the batting prize of the state cricket league with the best average ever made in New England, that of 59.15 runs per inning. This record compares favorably with the averages of the leading English players of any year.

He had captained the state team against Rhode Island, and even seasons back he organized and captained a team on a Canadian tour.

HEAVY RAIN

HAS PUT A STOP TO GRASS FIRES

MOMENSA, Saturday, May 1.—The monsoon broke with a terrific thunder storm on Sunday night last, which lasted from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. the following morning, and was the heaviest downpour ever known here. The rain fell in sheets over four inches coming down in three hours. The rain has put a stop to the grass fires which have been raging in the Rift valley for the past month. The fires have not only destroyed much game, but they have driven large numbers of animals many miles from the railway line, where, at normal times they like to congregate. The burnt down grass will be an advantage to Mr. Roosevelt's party, as a better view of the plains can now be obtained. But this is a condition that works both ways for sportsmen, for it makes much more difficult the stalking of rhinoceros who, when the grass is long, are often caught sleeping before they realize their danger. With the grass burned down, however, the chances of getting in a successful charge are more in their favor.

PEACE CONGRESS

CHICAGO, May 2.—The first formal session of the second National Peace congress will be held in Chicago this afternoon. Robert Treat Paine of Boston, president of the American Peace society, will preside. Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger will read the president's message to the delegates. Gov. Charles S. Deneen will welcome the delegates to the state and Mayor Fred A. Busse will welcome them to the city.

EX-PRES. AMADOR

OF REPUBLIC OF PANAMA IS DEAD

PANAMA, May 2.—Dr. Manuel Amador, first president of the republic of Panama, died yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness. He was 75 years old.

Manuel Amador was one of the prime movers in the revolution in 1903 against Colombia, which led to the independence of Panama. He was born at Cartagena. He engaged in business with his brother at Santiago, state of Panama, and then went to Panama City and began the practice of medicine, finally becoming one of the eminent physicians of the country.

Dr. Amador, in politics, was a conservative and in 1893, much against his will, he was nominated and elected to the presidency of the state of Panama. He never took office, however, for a revolution was started and succeeded before his inauguration.

Afterward he steadily refused to accept high political office, tendered him and when at last he was chosen president of the republic of Panama, the honor came to him unsought.

Dr. Amador, prior to the last presidential election, wrote a letter to his constituents declining nomination, and General Obaldia last December was elected in his stead.

Immediately after Panama asserted its independence on November 3, 1903, it was recognized by the United States and 14 days later, a treaty between the United States and the republic of Panama was signed, which permitted of the building and maintenance of the Panama canal.

MR. ROOSEVELT

WAS NOT ATTACKED BY CRAZY MAN

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Hamburg arrived yesterday from Genoa and Naples. On the outward voyage former President Roosevelt and party were passengers. Captain Bismarck said there was no truth in the story about Colonel Roosevelt published here. Mr. Roosevelt wrote late and never arose until 10 o'clock in the morning. He was not attacked by a crazy passenger and went to the steerage only once, where he was received with cheers. He never rode the camels in the gymnasium and in fact did nothing but conduct himself like a private gentleman on his travels.

STRIKE SPREADS

BAKERS IN NEW YORK OUT OF WORK

NEW YORK, May 2.—Minor demonstrations against non-union bakers, the lockout by employers of 300 men in 50 shops in Harlem, the seizure of several batches of bread by strikers and the distribution of circulars calling on consumers to buy only bread bearing the union label were the principal developments yesterday in the strike of East Side bakers, who demanded a fixed minimum wage scale and better sanitary surroundings. Hundreds of additional bakers joined the strike, but the employers, who are firm in refusing to meet the demands, declare that in the end they will triumph. They declined the offer of special police protection.

A TRAGEDY

THREE YOUNG BOYS LOST THEIR LIVES

NEW YORK, May 2.—An unfortunate boat, bobbing up and down in a cove off Freeport, L. I., yesterday, with sail gone and rigging entangled, told a story of a Long Island sound tragedy. Three boys, David Hultz, 18 years old, Henry Lindow, a year older, both of Merrick, L. I., and William Kunk, 15 years old, of West Babylon, N. Y., set out Saturday afternoon on a fishing expedition. A stiff wind was blowing at the time. They did not return at night. Search was then started, which resulted in the finding of a capsized boat.

SAILORS ENTERTAINED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Six hundred sailors and about one hundred officers and cadets of the Japanese training squadron, which arrived here yesterday, were entertained in a splendid banquet at the Hotel Palace. The Japanese admiral, Admiral Saito, presided at the banquet, and gave to the visitors, who were accompanied in their party by the beautiful Japanese girls.

APPLE KING DEAD

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 2.—Friedrich, known as the Apple King, died Saturday night. Mr. Friedrich, who was famous for his apple pies, was afflicted with a heart ailment. He had been a student of the University of California for over 20 years and probably planted more apple trees than any other man in the world.

TARIFF BILL

HAS ONE VERY IMPORTANT FEATURE

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The senate tariff bill, in the section which deals with the maximum and minimum proposition, has, in the judgment of tariff experts, one very important feature. It practically vests in the president the power to declare a tariff war against any nation, or to refrain from any such war. It is given to him to decide whether any nation is discriminating against the products of the United States in its system of duties. This permits the government, through the state department, and to the other agencies provided by law, to make agreements with our nations as to trade and tariff concessions which can be made effective by a proclamation of the president without necessity of anything in the way of legislation or treaty agreement.

In this way the delay can be obviated which would necessarily follow the submission to congress or to the senate of any proposition requiring such sanction and approval before putting it into effect.

The bill, it is explained, authorizes the president to employ at his discretion any person to secure information or assist him in the discharge of these duties, which would mean that he can appoint commissioners representing the United States to go abroad and make agreements with foreign nations. At the same time attention is paid to the wishes of those who are not in favor of reciprocal agreements of any kind. The proposition make it impossible to have any rate established lower than the rate in the tariff law.

Any change in the case of any nation must be a change in the way of higher duties. No amount of bargaining or concession can secure for any country any reduction in the tariff law.

A STATUE

TO THE MEMORY OF LONGFELLOW

WASHINGTON, May 2.—As a fitting tribute to genius and letters, a magnificent statue of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, America's most popular poet, will be dedicated, with appropriate ceremonies in this city, on May 7. The occasion will be more brilliant because of the presence of the president, literary men and practically all of the remaining relatives of the poet.

The statue, which is located in a small triangular park at the corner of Connecticut avenue and U street, is of heroic size, of pure white parian marble. The pedestal in striking contrast, is of reddish brown marble, imported from Scottish quarries. William Couper of New York is the sculptor.

Justice Fuller of the supreme court of the United States will preside at the exercises. The statue will be presented to the city by Brandegee Warner, treasurer of the Longfellow National Memorial association, through the efforts of which organization the monument was made a reality, and will be accepted by President Taft.

LAW MAKERS

HAVE BEEN EXPOSED TO SMALL-POX

OTTAWA, Ont., May 2.—There is a good deal of alarm among the law makers of Canada over the disclosures yesterday that they have been exposed to smallpox. The 14-year-old son of Senator Pomeroy came to Ottawa last week and spent a day or two with his father about the precincts of parliament. On Friday morning he took breakfast with his father in the restaurant of parliament, which is largely used by both senators and members of the house. The same day he complained of feeling unwell and as there was a rash on his face he was placed under medical surveillance.

Yesterday the doctor pronounced the trouble a case of smallpox, should another case develop and the government would be obliged to close the parliament buildings and the houses and members and senators would be required to work in the city and the law makers in Ottawa will be very busy.
